National Search Started By FBI

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nationwide search has been launched for four young men charged in the bombing of the Army Materiel Research Center at Madison, Wis. One man died and three were injured in the blast.

One of the four charged in the Aug. 24 bombing was linked by the FBI to students for a Democratic Society. Three had attended the University of Wisconsin where the research center was located. The fourth was identified as a high school drop-out.

The FBI said negative results and charges of subversion and espionage have been filed against the four men.

They are: James Earl Ray, 34, of Memphis, Tenn.; David Greenglass, 35, of New York; and two others whose names have not been released.

An FBI report investigating the blast said an effort was made to place a large cache of explosives and planned a series of bombings.

In the aftermath, James Earl Ray, 34, was arrested in London, England, and is now being held in a British prison.

The FBI said the university's Sterling Hall, in which the government research center was located, "has several years been the target for destruction."

National Search Started By FBI

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nationwide search has been launched for four young men charged in the bombing of the Army Mathematics Research Center at Madison, Wis. One man died and three were injured in the blast.

One of the four charged in the Aug. 24 bombing was linked by the FBI to Students for a Democratic Society. Three had attended the University of Wisconsin where the research center was located. The fourth was identified as a high school dropout.

Warrants Filed

The FBI said fugitive warrants and charges of sabotage, destruction of government property and conspiracy have been filed against Karleton Lewis Armstrong, 22; his brother, Dwight Alan Armstrong, 19; David Sylvan Fine, 18, and Leo Frederick Burt, 22.

An FBI agent investigating the blast filed an affidavit Wednesday in Madison, saying the Armstrong brothers had told a friend they had a large cache of explosives and planned a series of bombings.

In the affidavit, agent George P. Baxtrum Jr. said the Armstrongs told the friend they were responsible for the Jan. 1 bombing of the Badger Army Ammunition Plant. Authorities said an undetonated bomb was found on the grounds of the ammo plant.

Bought Gasoline

Karleton Armstrong rented a trailer and bought 100 gallons of gasoline Aug. 16, the agent quoted a Madison service station employee as saying. According to the document, another man reported the elder brother purchased 1,700 pounds of nitrogen fertilizer three days later.

The fertilizer and gasoline could be combined to make an explosive device.

Baxtrum said the four men charged were stopped by police shortly after the research center was bombed, but were allowed to pass. A friend of the four received a letter postmarked Aug. 28 in which they said they were in New York City en route to Canada.

Target Of Radicals

The FBI said the university's Sterling Hall, in which the government research center was located, "for several years has been the target for demonstration activity by radical groups led by the Students for a Democratic Society which protested it as a link of the University of Wisconsin with the federal government."

The FBI identified Fine as a former staff member of the "Heterodoxical Voice," published by SDS at the University of Delaware.

63 Americans Die In Combat

SAIGON (AP) — Sixty-three Americans were killed in action last week in Vietnam, the U.S. Command announced, but its total did not include 28 others killed when a helicopter was shot down last Wednesday.

The 63 dead were 11 more than the American battle death toll the week before. The command said American battlefield deaths for the past nine weeks total 623, the lowest for a nine-week period in 4½ years—since 621 U.S. troops were reported killed between Dec. 19, 1965, and Feb. 19, 1966.

Last week's toll included only three of the 31 Americans killed in the helicopter crash south of Da Nang because only three of the bodies had been identified by midnight last Saturday. Twelve more bodies have been identified this week and will be included in this week's toll, to be announced next Thursday, and the other 16 will be added to the total of the week in which they are identified.

The casualty summary also said 585 U.S. troops were wounded in action last week, a considerable increase over the 358 wounded two weeks ago.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 264 of its troops were killed last week, up slightly from 247 the week before, and 537 were wounded. The U.S. Command said allied forces killed 1,284 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops, compared to 1,093 the week before.

Little fighting was reported today in Vietnam or Cambodia, but American B52 bombers flew a sixth day of saturation raids against North Vietnamese supply routes from Laos into Cambodia and South Vietnam.

Police Harvest Marijuana Plants

MUSKEGON (AP) — Police have harvested more than 100 marijuana plants, some as much as seven feet tall, from a vacant lot within three blocks of the city's police station. Lt. William Gaunt described the wild plants as "near perfect for processing into saleable marijuana." Police said five years ago they found dozens of the plants on the same lot. Officers plan an inspection next week to determine if the lot's unwelcome flora are reappearing. If they are, the lot will be burned over. Wednesday's harvesting operation was triggered by a workman who recognized the plants.

Court Asked To Rule On Vote:

One More Test For Parochialism

LANSING (AP) — Parochial foes seeking a constitutional ban on state subsidies to private schools today faced what could be the final legal test of their efforts to let Michigan voters decide the issue in November.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, overruled Wednesday by the state appeals court, asked the Michigan Supreme Court early today to decide if an anti-parochial amendment to the State Constitution should go on the Nov. 3 ballot.

If accepted, Kelley's petition would be the second ballot issue now before the Supreme Court. It is reviewing an earlier appeals court decision that would place the issue of Daylight Savings Time on the state ballot again.

Certification Expected

The Supreme Court also has been asked to rule on the constitutionality of a $22-million grant to private and parochial schools that the Legislature included in the 1970-71 state school aid fund.

The Appeals Court, in a 2-1 vote Wednesday, said petitions asking the initiative referendum were properly written, and ordered state election officials to complete a canvas of signatures collected by the Council Against Parochialism, principal organization seeking the vote.

The four-member board of canvassers was expected to certify the petitions at a meeting this afternoon. Bernard Apol, state elections director, declined to say how many signatures have been validated, although he said 313,844 were turned in by the council.

Apol would not verify, until the board officially met, whether petition lists contain some 290,000 valid signatures as reported. A total of 246,191 are needed.

Language Argued

Kelley's petition to the Supreme Court was filed less than 24 hours after the Appeals Court ruled him wrong in ordering Apol and James M. Hare, secretary of state, not to accept the proposed amendment or its supporting petitions.

Kelley argued the proposal made no reference to existing language in Article 8, Section 2 of the 1963 Michigan Constitution, which simply instructs the Legislature to "maintain and support a system of free public elementary and secondary schools as defined by law."

The second sentence in the section says "every school district shall provide for the education of its pupils without discrimination as to religion, creed, race, color or national origin."

CAP — as the council is nicknamed — proposed to add a lengthy section specifying a variety of direct or indirect ways of granting funds to parochial schools that would be outlawed.

Law Explained

Michigan election law requires a proposed amendment include a statement of explanation and show where changes would be made if the proposal would "alter or abrogate any existing provision of the Constitution."

Because there was no such indication of the CAP proposal, Kelley said it should be rejected.

Top Negotiators Meet, No Gains Are Reported

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce had his first session with North Vietnam's chief envoy in the Paris peace talks today and appealed for a conciliation to break the long deadlock.

But Xuan Thuy declared the only way the talks can progress is for the United States to renounce "its policy of prolonging and widening its war of aggression" and abandon what he called its neocolonialist aims in South Vietnam.

Thuy, in his first appearance since December, asserted that North Vietnam remains firmly behind the Viet Cong's peace proposals which include a unilateral withdrawal by the United States from Vietnam and to abandon the South Vietnamese government of President Nguyen Van Thieu. The United States has rejected these proposals.

Lone Condition

Bruce said in his statement at the meeting that the single essential condition for a negotiated peace is for South Vietnam to determine its own future without outside interference.

"Our respective views—yours and ours—have differed widely on how to achieve this one essential condition," Bruce said.

Then the new American envoy stated, "Let us avoid propaganda and harsh language. Let us set aside preconceptions to serious discussions. Let us set aside demands for one-sided action."

Thuy said before the meeting — the 82nd — he had come to listen, ready "to discern if there is anything new" in what Bruce had to say.

No New Proposals

If there was anything new in Bruce's statement it was the tone. The American proposals have not changed.

Levin Proposes Drug Program

DETROIT (AP) — Charging that his gubernatorial opponent has done little or nothing to provide Michigan with a comprehensive drug control program, Democratic candidate Sander Levin Wednesday proposed a $30 million program of his own to deal with what he called the current "drug epidemic."

Levin's speech came in response to Gov. William Milliken's Aug. 16 statement concerning the Goose Lake Rock festival. Both speeches were carried statewide on radio and television.

Milliken reacted to one speech by charging that Levin is attempting to make the drug problem a political issue.

In his statement Wednesday, Levin called for state support for local, state and private drug treatment facilities, a dramatic increase in drug education programs, increasing the number of local narcotics law enforcement officers, stepped up research on marijuana, as well as hard drugs, and the establishment of local education and counseling programs.

Levin, a state senator from Berkeley, said he will propose action on the drug crisis when the Legislature reconvenes Sept. 15. He charged that Gov. Milliken had failed to take significant action on the Dec. 2, 1969 recommendations of his own special committee on drug dependence and abuse.

Milliken claimed that Levin's proposals were essentially a duplication of programs Milliken had put forward last February. He said Michigan had made more progress on the drug abuse problem in the last eight months than in the last eight years.

Union Squeezes Jailed Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early maneuverings for the Teamsters convention next year indicate the union's imprisoned president, James R. Hoffa, may finally be squeezed out.

Acting Teamsters President Frank E. Fitzsimmons, Hoffa's hand-picked stand-in, is letting it be known that he will run for the $100,000-a-year presidency of the 2 million member union—the world's largest—if Hoffa is "unavailable."

Hoffa is not likely to be available. He is serving an eight-year sentence for jury tampering in the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., still appealing a five-year mail fraud conviction, and already has been turned down once for parole.

The betting in the union is that Hoffa will have a slim chance of succeeding when he comes up for parole again in March, probably his last chance to win freedom before the Teamsters presidential election at their convention in Miami Beach next July.

Two of the most powerful of the union's 12 vice presidents have already pledged Fitzsimmons their support for him to run for president in his own right, inside sources said. The two are Elmer Mohn, who heads the union's West Coast division, and Murray W. (Dusty) Miller, head of the Teamsters Southern Conference.

UAW Aims At GM, Chrysler, Avoids Ford

DETROIT (AP) — An angry president of the United Auto Workers takes his union's new contract demands to one of its twin strike targets today after announcing Ford Motor Co. would not be struck in 1970.

UAW President Leonard Woodcock said Wednesday that the union will strike either General Motors or Chrysler—possibly both—unless a contract settlement is reached before expiration of current three-year contracts at midnight Sept. 14. However, one member of the union's International Executive Board said he doubted that both firms would be struck.

A strike at GM would give Ford a great marketing edge with its subcompact Pinto which goes on sale Sept. 11. The Chevrolet Vega goes on sale the day before, but a strike would quickly dry up the supply of some 25,000 GM subcompacts—perhaps in a day or two.

Woodcock said at a news conference one reason Ford was excluded as a target was so that there would be at least one American automaker building subcompacts in numbers to meet the challenge of imported cars. Chrysler will not have a subcompact for another year or more.

Woodcock said he would tell top Chrysler negotiators today that their contract offer—which included a wage hike the company claimed totaled 13.5 percent over three years—was a virtual insult. He said it was possible he might visit the GM negotiations late today or Friday.

He told the 177,600 UAW members at Ford Wednesday they would not have to go through a strike like they did in 1967 when the company signed after a seven-week walk-out.

"We don't give a damn if we run through the strike fund," Woodcock told cheering representatives of Chrysler's rank and file. "We can strike without money as we did in the past."

If General Motors is struck, the union's strike fund of $120 million would disappear in about seven weeks—or less if both GM and Chrysler were struck. If the strike goes to Chrysler alone, the fund could last some 30 weeks. Current strike benefits are $30 to $40 a week, depending upon family size.

The twin target concept differed from usual union practice of choosing one target and then concentrating on negotiations there.

Some industry observers saw the twin target effort as a pressure tactic aimed primarily at Chrysler, which has been operating in the black for only the last five months, after two losing quarters.

There is some speculation that Chrysler might be more likely to cave in to union demands than GM, the world's largest industrial corporation.

Israelis May Boycott Mid-East Peace Talks

TEL AVIV (AP) — Informed sources reported today that the Israeli government probably will boycott the Middle East peace talks at the United Nations until the United States takes a firm line supporting Israel's charges of Egyptian cease-fire violations.

Premier Golda Meir and her Cabinet met again today to consider the question as Israel issued its ninth complaint charging more Egyptian movement of anti-aircraft missiles into the Suez Canal cease-fire zone.

The sources said continued abstention from negotiations would be aimed at appeasing Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, who some Israelis believe will quit the Cabinet if Ambassador Yosef Tekoa returns to the talks with U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring before the United States gives public support to Israel's charges.

No Positive Sign

"The defense minister is not making it easy for Golda," wrote columnist Yoel Marcus in the newspaper Haaretz. "He has given to understand that this is for him a matter of principle, and that if his stand is not accepted he can no longer bear responsibility for defense policy."

Tekoa returned to Jerusalem last week after only one day of the talks, and so far there has been no sign of his returning to New York.

It was reported in Washington that the United States today told the Soviet Union and Egypt to stop violating the cease-fire. And American officials were preparing a statement which would acknowledge publicly evidence of the Egyptian missile buildup.

May Send Forces

Elsewhere in the Middle East, Syria joined Iraq today in threatening to send its military forces against the Jordanian army to defend the Palestine guerrillas.

Observers in Beirut considered the Syrian threat, like the similar one Iraq made Tuesday and Wednesday, to be largely psychological. Although the bulk of the Syrian army is deployed along the southern frontier 70 miles from Amman, the Syrians have been markedly reluctant to fight the Israelis, either during the 1967 war or since. And while they finance the Al Saika guerrilla organization, they make it use Lebanon and Jordan as the springboards for its raids on Israel to minimize the threat of Israeli retaliation against Syria.

The Jordanian government rejected the Iraqi threat, but the fighting in Amman between the guerrillas and Jordanian troops subsided Wednesday after five days of shooting.

Parade, Pickets To Greet Nixon

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — A big parade, pickets and a crowd of officials predict will reach 100,000 are expected to greet President Nixon and Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz in this seaside city today.

The two presidents and 700 VIP guests including former President Lyndon B. Johnson were gathering for a White House-style state dinner Nixon is giving Diaz Ordaz tonight in a display of Mexican-American friendship.

Decorations, bleachers and welcoming signs were up and 65 marching units were poised for the parade, along with beauty queens and horse riders.

City officials have been working hard to make this a warm welcome with a big turnout and all the ceremonial trappings to celebrate California's bicentennial as well as the visit of the presidents.

Hundreds of free buses were put into service all over the county and down to the border town of Tijuana to bring visitors to this community of 16,000.

The normal 60-cent toll on the new $47 million Coronado Bay Bridge was cut to 10 cents or one peso for the day. Mexican currency was being accepted for the first time on the span that links San Diego and the Coronado Peninsula.

Nixon's bubbletop limousine was brought in for his 1½-mile motorcade, timed to follow the parade after noon arrival ceremonies at North Island Naval Air Station.

County Attorney Richard Singer said last week he would not hold a rock concert that had been scheduled for Labor Day weekend. Instead, he said he is seeking permission to hold a one-day country and western show at the park Sept. 25.

A press conference was scheduled for this morning, at which Singer was expected to announce weekend plans for the park.

The Crew May Return

Alfred Trout, Escanaba, supervisor of the Hiawatha National Forest, said today that there is a possibility that the crew of the Hiawatha National Forest may be able to return home this weekend.

The U. S. Forest Service fire headquarters at Boise, Idaho, reported that the western fire situation is "not quite so critical and some demobilization is planned" in Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho.

"The alert status on manpower availability which was requested yesterday (Wednesday) has been removed and all alerted men are to return to normal duty," the Forest Service said.

All men dispatched from the Hiawatha National Forest were reported in good health. They're tired, but morale is good, Trout reported.

Trout also said that the 10-man crew sent Monday has been assigned to smoke choppers on the Clearwater National Forest in Idaho.

Two crews were sent into the fire zone about 10 days ago from the Hiawatha National Forest. They have been fighting lightning caused fires in the Westvaco National Forest in central Washington.

The classes are in welding, electricity, office machines and other subjects, Manville said.

"Unless the students are transported to Escanaba they will be dropped from classes by next Wednesday, and so we are asking the cooperation of parents in meeting the one-bus schedule which we have been able to work out for the Rapid River District," the superintendent said.

Decision Due On Goose Lake

JACKSON (AP)—A request to close Goose Lake Park to all shows as "a public and common nuisance" was to be ruled on today by Jackson County Circuit Judge John C. Dalton.

The suit for a temporary injunction, brought by Jackson County Prosecutor Bruce A. Barton, follows reports of wide spread drug use at a heavily attended rock festival held at the park Aug. 7-9.

Park owner Richard Songer said last week he would not hold a rock concert that had been scheduled for Labor Day weekend. Instead, he said he is seeking permission to hold a one-day country and western show at the park Sept. 20.

A press conference was scheduled for this morning, at which Songer was expected to announce weekend plans for the park.

ROBERT STENFORS, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Victor Stenfors of Foster City, recently graduated from Stanford University with a master's degree in civil engineering. Stenfors, who lives in Hudson, Wis., and employed by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers in St. Paul, Minn., is married to the former Judy Schermer of Schaffer and is the father of three girls. He is a 1960 graduate of Michigan Technological University.

Juvenile Court Seminar Planned

The 4th Juvenile Court Seminar coordinated by the conference department of Northern Michigan University's Division of Continuing Education and sponsored by the Supreme Court Office of the Court Administrator and the Children's Charter of the Courts of Michigan, Inc., will be held at Blaney Resort Sept. 9-10.

Participants will include probate judges, juvenile court officers and others involved with the courts.

The opening session will start at 10 a.m. Wednesday, with Dr. Jerome White, Chicago, a clinical member of the International Transactional Association, serving as the main speaker.

Fire Crews May Return

Alfred Troutt, Escanaba, supervisor of the Hiawatha National Forest, said today that there is a possibility that the first Upper Peninsula crews sent to the west coast to fight forest fires may be able to return home this weekend.

The U. S. Forest Service fire headquarters at Boise, Idaho, reported that the western fire situation is "not quite so critical and some demobilization is planned" in Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho.

"The alert status on manpower availability which was requested yesterday (Wednesday) has been removed and all alerted can return to normal duties," the Forest Service said.

All men dispatched from the Hiawatha National Forest were reported in good health. They're tired, but morale is good, Troutt reported.

Troutt also said that the 10-man crew sent Monday has been assigned as smoke chasers on the Clearwater National Forest in Idaho.

Two crews were sent into the fire zone about 10 days ago from the Hiawatha National Forest. They have been fighting lightning caused fires in the Wentachee National Forest in central Washington.

Trades & Labor Council Slates Labor Day Picnic

The Delta County Trades & Labor Council will hold its annual Labor Day picnic at Pioneer Trail Park beginning at 1 p.m. Monday, it was announced today.

The picnic on the south side of the park is open to the public and special activities are scheduled throughout the afternoon, including games and races for both adults and children and music from the German Band. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be available.

Kelley To Oppose Ferry Abandonment

By DON HOENSHELL
Panax Capitol Bureau

LANSING — Attorney Gen. Frank J. Kelley said today he will fight abandonment of rail service across the Straits of Mackinac as "a devastating blow to the economy of northern Michigan."

It is the second time in eight years that the Mackinac Transportation Co. has sought to halt the railroad car ferry across the straits.

Kelley said the company, jointly owned by Penn Central and the Soo Line railroads, filed an abandonment petition Aug. 19 with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The firm operates the ferry, Chief Wawatam, which shuttles railroad cars between St. Ignace and Mackinac City, making four round trips a week.

Lone Connection

It is the only rail connection between Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas and the only cross-lake rail link between Port Huron-Sarnia on the east and Frankfort-Keweenaw, on the west.

Kelley said that the proposed abandonment would "undo much of the good done by the Mackinac Bridge, breaking the economic bond between the two peninsulas by substituting a 600-mile rail trip for the present eight-mile trip across the straits."

Kelley said there would be a corresponding increase in freight rates, hiking the price of goods carried to the Upper Peninsula by the railroad.

Would Cut Lines

"Abandonment of the ferry would quickly and inevitably lead to the abandonment of 300 miles of rail lines meeting at the straits," he said.

He said this would include the Penn Central line from Grand Rapids to Mackinac City, the Penn Central from Gaylord to Mackinac City and the Soo Line from Trout Lake to St. Ignace.

Kelley said the lines do not generate sufficient local traffic to be economically feasible and they depend upon the straits traffic. He said that scores of communities and hundreds of businesses would be without rail freight service.

He said he would meet with community groups in northern Michigan in the next few weeks to develop evidence on the impact on the economy to submit to the ICC.

Tried in 1964

In 1964, the ferry company, Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central Railroad, filed applications to abandon the ferry and 286 miles of connecting lines between Grand Rapids, Gaylord and Mackinac City.

When the petition was filed in Washington the company said the ferry service would be suspended during the hearings because the Coast Guard has prohibited further operation until boiler repairs were made. Kelley, working through the United States District Court in Grand Rapids, blocked the 1964 abandonment attempt.

The Mackinac Transportation Co. began the straits ferry operation in 1881 at the same time that the Grand Rapids & Indiana Railroad Co. line was completed between Grand Rapids and Mackinac City.

The Chief Wawatam, a heavy ice breaker, has been the principle boat on the route since it was built in Toledo, Ohio, in 1911.

Group Opposition

A Mackinac City group is organizing against a petition by the Penn Central and the SOO Railroads to discontinue the train ferry that runs across the straits of Mackinac from St. Ignace to Mackinac City.

Stanley McRae, a Mackinac City businessman, said the group believes stopping the ferry, the Chief Wawatam, would increase unemployment in the area and hurt the economy.

About 20 persons work on the ferry, which normally makes at least one trip a day.

Also opposing the discontinuation is the United Transportation Union, a national union of ferry employees.

Charge Driver Was Intoxicated

Lee R. Cretens, 25, of 605 N. 11th St., is at liberty on bond for his appearance in District Court to answer to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

Escanaba police arrested Cretens at 2:01 a. m. today at 15th Ave. N. and Stephenson Ave., after pursuing him from the 1100 block of Washington Ave.

Officers said Cretens was speeding and weaving back and forth in the traffic lanes.

AMC Acquires Plastics Firm

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. announced today it has completed acquisition of Windsor Plastics, Inc., of Evansville, Ind.

Shares of American Motors capital stock were exchanged for all outstanding shares of Windsor Stock, AMC said.

Windsor Plastics, which manufactures precision injection moldings with decorative finishes, will be operated as a wholly owned subsidiary of AMC and will continue its current business under present management, the announcement said.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

DANCE OF THE BRIDGE — Vija Zarina McCabe, left, and silhouetted at right, will perform a dance she composed as "pas du pons" (Dance of the Bridge) at the traditional Labor Day walk across the Mackinac Bridge. Mrs. McCabe has been working out the themes of her dance on the Grand Hotel Boardwalk that edges the Straits and overlooks the bridge. (AP Wirephoto)

Talks Progress At Big Bay

NAHMA — Big Bay de Noc Supt. of Schools Frank Stupak said today that talks between the board of Education and teachers committee are "progressing pretty well and I'm hoping the schools will open next week after the Labor Day holiday."

Stupak said the teachers committee is considering a board proposal that the teachers return to work under provisions of the old contract with negotiating sessions continuing until settlement is reached.

Daily meetings are being held by Stupak and the teachers committee.

Stupak discounted any suggestion that the two groups would meet with the State Labor Dept. mediator in an attempt to resolve the differences.

"The emotional atmosphere is good and the board doesn't feel the differences are serious enough to warrant mediation," Stupak said.

Airline Releases Traffic Figures

North Central Airlines traffic volume figures for August at Escanaba were released today, together with a comparison for the same month a year ago.

Passengers totaled 2,604 last month compared to 3,190 a year ago. North Central's Escanaba Manager Pete Zimmer said last year's high was created by airport construction at Iron Mountain, which diverted traffic to Escanaba.

Mail in August this year was 4,655 pounds, express 5,168, freight 14,408 pounds, and first class or surface mail 847 pounds. Express was up from 4,319 pounds a year ago and other classes of mail and freight declined.

Hart Requests Gas Hike Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart asked the Federal Power Commission Wednesday to delay a proposed hike in natural gas rates pending investigation by another federal agency.

Hart, Michigan Democrat who heads the antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, said the price hike, which reportedly could raise gas costs 50 to 100 per cent for consumers, utilities and industrial users, should be thoroughly investigated first by the Federal Trade Commission.

He said the industry has argued that it needs the price hike to encourage exploration for gas to alleviate a serious shortage.

But, Hart said in similar letters to the FTC and FPC, he had been told that gas producers are not reporting all discoveries and that in some cases there is a "strike" of producers who are collectively withholding gas from the market pending a price increase.

Heart Recipient Condition Grave

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's latest heart-transplant patient was reported in critical condition with pneumonia Wednesday by University of Michigan hospital officials.

Cordell Robinson, 48, of River Rouge, has been hospitalized since July 21, when he received his new heart.

Schools In South Open, Integration Uneventful

By The Associated Press

Only 25 whites of 359 assigned were among the hundreds of blacks when the formerly all-black George Washington Carver High School opened for the fall term in Montgomery, Ala.

In Richmond, Va., a 14-year-old white girl attending a predominantly black school said: "The only reason I came here was to keep my mother from being locked up."

In Mississippi and Louisiana, school officials said it would be weeks before they could produce figures on integration.

And in Georgia, school officials complained of administrative headaches and high absenteeism caused by massive new classroom integration.

Schools Quiet

But there was uneventful integration of large numbers of other Deep South districts as public schools opened under orders to abolish separate schools for whites and blacks.

Despite boycotts and a parallel surge of private school openings, President Nixon said he was pleased.

"As schools have opened in many parts of the South in recent days," the President said Wednesday, "the nation has seen hundreds of communities achieve the transition from a dual to a unitary school system smoothly, peacefully and successfully."

He said the past few days, which he earlier said would bring the most meaningful integration of the past 10 years, were a "very difficult and very delicate time."

Lawsuit Possible

Governors in some states continued the quest for ways to thwart busing for the purpose of desegregation.

Gov. Bob Scott of North Carolina met Wednesday with state officials to discuss possible filing of a suit aimed at preventing the state from lending buses to local school districts.

Such a suit, they reasoned, could strike directly at desegregation.

No Wrongdoings By Senators In Anti-War Rally

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has told Sen. Barry Goldwater it found no wrongdoing on the part of anti-war senators who raised nearly $500,000 to rally public support for legislation designed to end U.S. participation in the Indochina war.

In a letter to the Arizona Republican, Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst said the department was "unable to make a determination" that federal laws were violated in raising and spending the money.

Goldwater, who asked for a legal opinion on the propriety of fund-raising activities of the Committee To End The War, was not immediately available for comment.

Kleindienst, who was Goldwater's 1964 presidential campaign manager, said the department's investigation had turned up no evidence of wrongdoing "based on the facts that are available at this time."

The Committee To End The War, a coalition of dovish senators and others in the antiwar movement, sponsored a televised appeal last May for money to push the so-called McGovern-Hatfield "amendment to end the war." The committee's advertising urged citizens to voice their support for the amendment by writing to their senators and congressmen.

U-M Students Stage Tent-In

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Some 30 University of Michigan students are staging a "tent-in" on the campus diagonal, protesting alleged university failure to provide more housing for students.

Fred Arnold, president of the Ann Arbor Tenants' Union, an unofficial student organization, charged the university has ignored a student referendum taken last spring calling for construction of 5,000 additional housing units.

Students approved the referendum by a 7-1 margin.

"We'll stay as long as we need to," Arnold said. "I just hope it doesn't get cold."

John Feldkamp, director of university housing said this has been "a smooth year" in finding housing for students and that he is "unaware of any absolute shortage."

Officials said approximately 80 male freshmen were notified in August there was no room in the dorms, but that the waiting list has been pared to under 30. The 30 extra students, officials said, have been offered housing in fraternities.

Permission for the demonstration which began Tuesday was granted by U-M President Robben Fleming, who said up to 35 tents could be pitched. However, no sanitary facilities are available.

THE FAMED BRAND OF SLAVE BRANDY AT ST. PETERSBURG, FLA., IN 1850. The brandy was made from a recipe that was passed down from the 18th century, but not the way it was made then.

Famed 'Branded Hand' Now Forgotten Legend

MUSKOGEE (AP) — The fame of the man with the "branded hand" drew thousands to this city as Lake Michigan's shores less than a century ago, but today his story is virtually forgotten.

Capt. Jonathan Walker, whose highly publicized branding as a slave stealer on orders of a federal judge became a rallying point in the crusade against human bondage, was a national figure in the mid 19th century.

Now, his name is kept alive in Muskogee's city-operated Evergreen Cemetery in solemn vigil.

But dedication of the graveside monument of fellow New Englander was enough in 1900 to bring thousands flocking to Muskogee by special trains and steamers for the ceremony.

The post John Greenleaf Whittier devoted 13 stanzas of an anti-slavery poem to Walker's story. And the poet insisted, "Unborn generations... shall tell with pride the story of their father's branded hand."

Walker, who became a sailor at 17, was a slave runner by the 1840s. But his goal was freedom for the blacks.

His dangerous career began after dark-chinned activities of an isle in the Indian Ocean earned him back to health when his own shipmates had left him behind to die.

But the poor health which spared his desire to free the slaves also led to his capture and branding in 1844.

Walker became violently ill while ferrying four slaves toward freedom in the Bahamas and his small boat was captured by a government vessel.

The 49-year-old crusader was taken home to Pensacola, Fla., in 1845.

He was formally charged with slave stealing and convicted on four counts. Later, in full view of the federal judge and angry citizens of Pensacola, a local blacksmith branded the letters "S" for slave stealer into the palm of Walker's hand.

The captain was jailed in a bare cell, his floor still damp from the blood of a despairing, recaptured slave who committed suicide there two days earlier, and stayed there until friends could obtain the $5,000 needed to pay Walker's fine.

Walker later turned the north, riding against the evils of slavery, while trying to raise money to repay his debt.

When the lecture tour ended, Walker retired with his family to a one-acre farm at Lake Harbor near Muskogee. Local historians say Walker spent the years until his death championing the cause of freedom for the slaves and equal rights for women.

Couple Gives Car To Dealer

WHITEHALL, Mich. (AP) — When a new car salesman talked Mr. and Mrs. George Moog, of Whitehall, into signing papers of title transfer pending financial arrangements for the car the Moogs wanted, he didn't intend to give the car away.

But Mrs. Moog, who received her title in the mail Tuesday, says that so far as she's concerned, that's just what the salesman did.

She said she and her husband signed the papers while waiting for a local credit union to approve the loan. As it turned out, the loan application fell through, but the title was sent to the Moogs anyway by the Michigan Secretary of State.

When she and her college age son, Mark, took the title to the dealership and jokingly demanded that the car be turned over to her, nobody laughed.

In fact, Mrs. Moog says, they were so nasty that she has vowed to make the car hers.

She said a call from an attorney threatening to sue her over the affair didn't scare her. "They made it mine," Mrs. Moog said, "so they can give it to me."

REPLACE LAW
GREEN MOUNTAIN FALLS, Colo. (AP) — Residents of Green Mountain Falls, a mountain community west of Colorado Springs, voted this year to repeal an anti-liquor law that had stood on the books for 80 years.

The Indian government had some $2.4 billion outstanding in loans from the United States as of January 31, 1970, according to government figures.

The captain was jailed in a bare cell, its floor still damp from the blood of a despairing, recaptured slave who committed suicide there two days earlier, and stayed there until friends could obtain the $5,000 needed to pay Walker's fine.

Walker later toured the north, railing against the evils of slavery, while trying to raise money to repay his friends.

When the lecture tour ended, Walker retired with his family to a one-acre farm at Lake Harbor near Muskegon. Local historians say Walker spent the years until his death championing the causes of freedom for the slaves and equal rights for women.

Rapid River Awaits Fact-Finding Report

By DAVE ANDREWS

RAPID RIVER — Opening of school in the Rapid River school district apparently will be delayed until at least after the Labor Day weekend.

Delegations representing the Rapid River Education Association and the Board of Education met with a state-appointed fact-finder for over three hours in the Bay de Noc Elementary School Wednesday night without any new developments.

Indications were that there would be no further talks until the fact-finder's recommendations are made.

Dr. William Barstow of Hancock, a Michigan Tech University professor who was named as the fact-finder by the State Employee Relations Commission, said his findings probably will not reach the school district before Saturday, at the earliest.

Not Binding

On agreement from the school board and teachers, Barstow said he would file an "abbreviated" report as soon as possible and follow up with more detailed recommendations, probably in two to three weeks.

The recommendations by the fact-finder are not binding on either party, however.

The Board of Education rejected the Education Association proposal that both sides agree to accept the recommendations.

"We would like to look at the recommendation of the fact-finder," said one board member. "We are elected by the people and we don't want to waive" the responsibility to make decisions.

Presents 35 Exhibits

More than 100 residents turned out at the school for the session last night and except for one outburst of applause favoring the school board after a statement comparing teacher salaries with those of other people remained unemotional throughout the lengthy hearing.

The Education Association took about two hours to present some 35 exhibits supporting its request for higher salaries. The teachers are asking a minimum starting salary of $7,300 for teachers with a bachelor's degree. The offer of the school board is for a starting salary of $6,900.

The Board's offer is $300 over the starting base on the 1969-70 salary schedule of $6,600.

Statements by both sides at the hearing indicated that the $400 difference in salary proposals is the major stumbling block, although the two groups also are apart in the insurance and extra-duty pay parts of the contract.

Ask Insurance Boost

The Education Association is asking an increase in insurance benefit from $17.50 per month to $30 per month. It also has requested a boost in extra-duty pay schedules based on a percentage of a teacher's regular salary.

No adjustments over the 1969-70 contract have been offered by the school board.

Both sides presented figures on finance with the RREA presentations concentrating on comparisons with other school districts in the Upper Peninsula and the school board citing its own financial troubles and the expense of trying to provide additional school classrooms, more teachers to reduce class size and efforts to meet accreditation stipulations issued by the University of Michigan.

Percentage Cited

The Education Association said that the school board under its proposal will be paying teachers a smaller percentage of the revenue available to the district than it did last year and cited cost of living figures as one of the basic reasons for a more substantial raise than that offered.

The school board said that under the Education Association proposals 25 of 26 teachers in the system would get raises of over $1,000 based on the proposed increase in the base and the normal increment for teaching experience.

Barstow, who said the fact-finding process is "basically a comparison" of costs, salaries and revenue, etc., asked the Board of Education for its proposed budget for 1970-71 along with details on state equalized valuation, the bus transportation program and number of students, etc.

He said the figures are essential to the fact-finding process.

The Rapid River school district was scheduled to open Monday. Negotiations between the Board of Education and the RREA have been underway since spring without success. An attempt by Walter Quillico of Iron Mountain, state labor mediator, to resolve the differences last week also failed.

Yippie Leader Avoiding Taxes With Foundation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Yippie leader Jerry Rubin, using the laws of "the system" he seeks to destroy, has set up a tax-exempt foundation to shield a major portion of his income from federal tax collectors.

The foundation, called the Social Education Foundation and also known as the Jerry Rubin Fund, holds the copyright on Rubin's best-selling, revolution-preaching book, "Do It!" Proceeds from the book go to the foundation and are thereby protected from income tax assessments.

Among other things, the Rubin book calls on young people to leave their homes, burn their schools and create a new society.

Statement Late

Legal papers filed with the Internal Revenue Service say the foundation would, among other things, use its funds for "relief of the poor, distressed and underprivileged . . . Lessen the burdens of government . . . defend human and civil rights secured by law . . . and make awards to citizens who render conspicuous service to the community."

The foundation, however, is 3 1/2 months delinquent in filing a mandatory tax statement with IRS.

The foundation was incorporated in New York in May 1969. The sole trustee is Nancy S. Kurshan, identified in the past as Rubin's wife.

How much money Rubin and other benefactors have shoveled into the foundation could not be determined. The tax statements of tax-exempt foundations are public records, but Rubin's foundation has not filed any tax statement.

"Normal Setup"

And his literary agent and lawyer aren't saying how much he's made.

"We have a normal setup," Carl Brandt, Rubin's New York literary agent said in a telephone interview. "Simon & Schuster (publishers of 'Do It!') send over the proceeds, I take my fee off the top and forward the rest to the foundation's mailing address." Brandt would not divulge the address.

Rubin's lawyer, Abraham L. Wax, would say even less.

"Write me a letter," he told a reporter.

The foundation papers filed last year say the organization had assets of $2,000 when formed.

Rubin, convicted with four other members of the Chicago 7 in connection with the violent demonstrations in Chicago during the 1968 Democratic National Convention, could not be reached for elaboration.

One More Test For Parochialism

"It is impossible to ascertain from the petition alone whether it is intended that the new language will replace or only supplement the existing language," Kelley wrote.

The Appeals Court, in overruling Kelley, accepted the argument of CAP lawyers that nothing was being changed, that new language simply was to be added.

Judges Donald Holbrook of Clare and John Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge, in writing their controlling opinion, cited four cases, decided over the past 40 years, to uphold their contention that the "alteration or abrogation" issue was not involved.

"In either event," Holbrook and Fitzgerald wrote, "the present provisions of Article 8, Section 2, would remain intact and operative." They said the fact that the amendment would influence interpretation of the sentences now in the section didn't make any difference.

Burns Dismisses

Thomas M. Burns, Appeals Court judge from Saginaw, dissented. He said there was no indication of "the precise effect of the proposed amendment. . . I can only assume that (it) is intended to replace the language already existing under the section."

Burns said complex election laws governing the Constitution's amending procedure are designed to show petition signers "exactly how such amendments would change the present Constitution."

"Since the signer of the petition would have no way of knowing what effect the proposed amendment would have . . . the requirements (of election law) have not been met," Burns concluded.

Vice President Praises Legion

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Members of the American Legion, praised by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as the nation's true peace-makers, end their national convention today.

Legionnaires hear a speech by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., present Fourth Estate awards and elect officers in concluding their 52nd national convocation.

The Fourth Estate awards go to James G. Stahlman, president and publisher of the Nashville Banner, and Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor and publisher of the Tulsa Tribune.

Agnew, who returned this week from a tour of five Asian nations, flew into Portland from San Clemente, Calif., Wednesday, stayed an hour to address the legion, then left for Austin, Tex., where he reported on Southeast Asia to former President Lyndon B. Johnson. He continued on to Washington, D.C.

"The spirit the legion represents is what has kept America strong and what has kept the peace," Agnew said.

"The real peace lobby today is composed of those who maintain the peace, not those who disturb it."

As he spoke in Memorial Coliseum, about 300 persons organized by the People's Army Jamboree marched outside, carrying signs that demanded an end to the war in Southeast Asia and to racism in the United States.

The jamboree was organized to protest the presence in Portland of the legion and for five days staged seminars and parades.

An inquest into the death of Orrie E. Switzer, 68, of 611 N. 16th St., Gladstone, who died on July 6, began in District Court at 9:30 this morning before Judge Dean Shipman.

A jury of three men and three women are weighing the evidence brought forward by Prosecuting Attorney John Beauchamp and Attorney Thomas Butch, who is representing the interests of the Switzer family in the inquest.

The inquest, which is expected to continue through Friday, is not a criminal proceeding, but is to determine if a crime has been committed and if there is probable cause to charge a person or persons with a crime.

Liquor Fines Down, License Suspensions Up

LANSING (AP) — The State Liquor Control Commission has collected less in fines for liquor law violations this year, but revoked and suspended more licenses than in 1969.

The commission reported Wednesday that it had ordered fines totaling $66,869 during Jan. 1 and June 30, compared to $79,940 for the same period last year.

But, the commission also ordered two licenses revoked and six others revoked unless transferred. Those totals compare with no revocations during the first half of 1969 and four ordered revoked unless transferred.

In addition, the commission ordered 73 establishments to suspend sale of alcoholic beverages for 1,102 days in the first six months of 1970, compared with 70 establishments being suspended for a total of 674 days for the same period last year.

Woman Named Federal Judge

BOYNE FALLS (AP) — Wayne Circuit Judge Cornelia Kennedy has been nominated by President Nixon to be the first woman federal judge in Michigan's history, the Detroit News reported today.

Mrs. Kennedy, 46, would succeed the late Federal Judge Thaddeus M. Machrowicz on the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan in Detroit.

President Nixon sent the nomination to the U.S. Senate Wednesday for confirmation.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., submitted Judge Kennedy's name to the President last spring after Machrowicz's death.

Mrs. Kennedy, attending the state's annual judicial conference in this northern Michigan resort area, said she was "delighted that the senator had the confidence in me to suggest my name to the President."

Judge Kennedy attended Redford High School and graduated from the University of Michigan Law School.

She was a law clerk to a U.S. Court of Appeals judge in Washington before returning to Detroit and practicing law for 19 years. She was elected to the Wayne County bench in 1966.

NASA Adjusts Space Program Two Flights Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today announced that it has decided to cancel two of its scheduled space flights, the first of which was scheduled for next month.

The flights, which were part of the agency's "Pioneer" program, were scheduled to be launched on the Apollo 11 and Apollo 12 spacecraft. The flights were to have been the first of a series of missions designed to test the capabilities of the new spacecraft and to prepare for the Apollo 13 mission, which is scheduled for launch in December.

Milliken Forbids Campaign Litter

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George A. Milliken today issued an order forbidding campaign littering in Michigan.

The order, which is the first of its kind in the state, forbids anyone from throwing campaign materials, such as buttons, signs, or leaflets, on the ground.

Milliken said that the order was issued to protect the state's reputation and to ensure that the state remains a clean and beautiful place.

Milliken Forbids Campaign Litter

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken says he will not contribute to "scenic pollution" — even to push his political campaign.

In a letter to his campaign manager, Keith Molin, Milliken said he had seen campaign signs on trees, bumper stickers on expressway exit signs and posters along highway rights-of-way during the primary campaign.

"Other than bumper stickers and a limited number of picture posters for interior use, I will not be supplying placards, lawn signs and other material that so often litter our landscape and contribute to scenic pollution," he said.

"Nor do I intend to have billboards," Milliken wrote. "while many hundreds of billboards along our highways perform a service to the motoring public, and while outdoor advertising is a legitimate commercial use of private property, I do not want personally to contribute to the proliferation of what I consider to be a source of scenic pollution."

"As it is now, too many of Michigan's rural and scenic areas are blighted by billboards."

Milliken further asked Molin to see that any of his campaign literature put on public display is removed immediately after the election.

Milliken said he would like to see a source of scenic pollution.

NASA Adjusts Space Program, Two Flights Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Planetary Mission Board.

Instead of the Apollo 15 spacecraft with its limited lunar stay and lunar orbit capability, an advanced version including a lunar rover vehicle will be used, and thus another Apollo 15 site must be selected, Findlay said.

Paine said NASA intends to do everything possible to include a scientist astronaut on at least one mission.

Myers said there are no plans to reduce the size of the astronaut team.

He said NASA is running some "master facilities" studies to determine suitable locations for space shuttle work.

Manpower To Drop

The space shuttle will be a vehicle that takes off rocket-like but returns to earth like an airplane. A part of the shuttle will separate from the launching craft, in orbit, to carry astronaut crews to and from the three-man orbiting Skylabs.

The Apollo cutback will have a special effect on Cape Kennedy, Fla. NASA said manpower at Kennedy Space Center will drop from the 15,500 level in 1973 when the Skylab program is due to end.

Myers said the agency will attempt to use Kennedy personnel to develop and support future programs.

After Skylab, no more manned flights are scheduled from the Cape. The earliest possible launch date for the space shuttle is 1976.

Boys Arrested In Gas Theft

Four Nahma area boys, all 16-years of age, were charged with simple larceny and minors in possession of beer when they were arrested Tuesday night in Nahma by troopers of the Manistique State Police Post.

Officers received a report about 10 p.m. Tuesday that some gas had been taken from school busses parked at the Big Bay de Noc High School in Nahma. The night patrol car was sent to investigate and arrested the four around 11 p.m. They have been referred to jurisdiction of the Delta County Probate Court.

Two complaints involving damage to a car and the theft of a tire and wheel are under investigation by troopers. James Ansell of Cooks reported damage to engine components of his late model car, which was parked in his driveway, sometime during the nighttime of Aug. 30. Leggett & Foye Equipment Company, U.S. 2, reported a tire and wheel were stolen from a new pickup truck parked in their yard. The theft occurred sometime Monday night.

Lloyd V. Edwards, 18, Rte. 1, was ticketed for defective equipment after his car ran off U.S. 2, near the County Rd. 439 junction, at 2 a.m. Tuesday. The right front wheel of the Edwards vehicle came off, causing the accident, troopers said.

Clifford Lambert, 50, 124 Third St., was injured and required medical attention after his car went off Advent Road (FFH-22-22) in Garden Township, through a ditch and struck some trees. The mishap occurred at 1:50 Tuesday afternoon and was attributed to a soft tire. The Lambert vehicle received considerable damage. He was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist.

Briefing On Asia Pleases Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson has been briefed on the situation in Southeast Asia by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, and a vice presidential spokesman indicated Johnson was pleased with what he heard.

Agnew spent nearly three hours with the former president at the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex., Wednesday evening before flying to Washington to end a 27,000-mile, five nation Asian journey.

Earlier in the day, Agnew addressed the American Legion convention in Portland, Ore.

"The President (Johnson) didn't indicate he was unhappy about anything," an Agnew spokesman said on the flight back to Washington. Newsweek were not permitted to cover the session at the LBJ Ranch.

Report To Nixon
Agnew, meanwhile, was quoted as saying "the experience accumulated by presidents of the United States is a precious commodity." He was expected to convey Johnson's reaction to the briefing to President Nixon.

The vice president plans to go Ocean City, Md., later today for a weekend rest before launching political campaigning next Thursday in Casper, Wyo.

Johnson, reportedly looking tanned and relaxed, greeted Agnew and other members of the vice president's party on arrival at the ranch airstrip after a flight from Bergstrom AFB near Austin.

After a 10 minute talk inside the main ranch house, Johnson and Agnew spent more than an hour driving about the ranch and discussing the impressions gathered by Agnew in South Korea, Nationalist China, Vietnam, Cambodia and Thailand.

Later, the two chatted with other members of the vice presidential party. Agnew's spokesman said the former president described the session as pleasant and cordial and Agnew agreed.

ant and cordial and Agnew agreed.

Visit Delayed
The visit to the ranch was delayed by Agnew's trip to Portland, Ore., an assignment Nixon handed him only late Tuesday when the President decided against going himself. No announcement of the Portland visit was made until minutes before Agnew took off Wednesday morning from El Toro Marine Air Station, California.

He called for "mutual respect and mutual forbearance" as the cornerstone of a civilized society, and said "the real advocates of peace" are those who seek accommodation rather than confrontation.

Some 300 antiwar demonstrators, chanting slogans and carrying placards, circled in front of the main entrance of Memorial Coliseum while Agnew spoke. The 12,000-seat hall was only about one-third full, amid tight security, but the crowd enthusiastically applauded Agnew's speech.

Upper Peninsula Football Season Opens Friday

Key Clashes On Tap For Area Gridders

The 1970 Upper Peninsula high school gridiron season opens with a near full slate of games on tap as 37 of the peninsula's record number of 42 prep teams swing into action with a total of 26 games this weekend. Not only does the U.P. have a record number of teams, but they will be playing a record number of 184 games, eleven more than a year ago.

Highlighting the season's opening contests will be Escanaba's contest at Marquette, Iron Mountain's invasion of Holy Name, Gwin's encounter with Gladstone and Ishpeming's clash with Marquette. Wakefield's opening clash with rival Ironwood, Marquette's contest at West Iron County and Newberry's clash with Marquette are also considered top openers.

Great Northern Struggles
The Great Northern Conference will again have most of the football strength in the Peninsula with defending co-champion Marquette getting serious challenges from the entire league, especially co-champion Kingsford, Escanaba and Holy Name. West Iron County and Iron Mountain cannot be taken easily and will be playing the role as spoilers. These two are considered the dark horses of the league. It's a good bet the 1970 U.P. football champion will be coming from the Great Northern.

Whether the Marquette Maroons, last year's U.P. champions, can repeat will depend on Coach Ken Howe's getting replacement for last year's heavy graduation losses. Strong challengers for the U.P. title this year are Escanaba, Holy Name, Kingsford, Ishpeming, West Iron County, Gladstone, Ironwood, Negaunee and possibly Gwin. L'Anse, Norway and Stephenson look as potential small school challengers.

Five New Grid Teams
Five new high school teams will be joining the peninsula grid ranks, along with a near dozen grid newcomers. Carney, White Pine, and Iron-Trust Creek will be fielding their first teams in history, while Ironwood Catholic and Ironwood are returning to the gridiron after a lapse of several years. Lake Linden along with the five newcomers will be playing independent football schedules.

The 48 Peninsula teams will be playing in eight divisions, the Great Northern, Great Lakes, Copper Country, Michigan-Wisconsin, Land of Lake, Eastern U.P., Straits Huron and the Wolverine conference.

Teams like Hancock, Gwin, St. Ignace and Rudyard, which had banner seasons last year, may be hard-pressed to repeat their fine performances in their respective conferences this year. Gladstone, the defending Great Lakes Conference champions and also considered to be a title contender again this fall, may get serious arguments from Ishpeming, Negaunee, Marquette and possibly Marquette. L'Anse appears to be a prime Copper Country Conference choice, with strong opposition coming from Calumet and Hancock.

Ironwood, along with neighboring Hurley in the western part of the U.P. have been tabbed again as the choices in the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference, with Ashland a possible dark horse. Pembine is a top selection for top honors in the Wolverine Conference, although the newly consolidated North Central Area High School (Powers-Spaulding and Hermantown) is in a good position to refute that choice.

Eastern U.P.
Rudyard and DeTour, perennial Eastern Upper Peninsula Conference powerhouses, are again tabbed as the team to beat, but the Bulldogs and Red Raiders will be hard pressed by Pickford and downstate Cheboygan Catholic for the title.

Gwin and Norway are solid favorites in the Land-O-Lakes Conference with Norway given a slight nod to replace the defending champion Model Town-ers. St. Ignace, two-time Michigan-Huron Conference champs and who had a 7-1-0 record last year will be hard pressed to make it three in a row as Pelee, Cheboygan and Boyne City are set to move ahead of the Saints.

Only two teams, Hancock and Gwin, survived the 1969 campaign without a loss, but both had a scoreless tie marring their otherwise perfect records. The winners of Oct. 2-3 and Oct. 14-17 will feature the heaviest action across the Peninsula with 24 games on tap, while 20 contests are slated for Oct. 9-10 and 22 each for the weekends of Sept. 12-13 and Sept. 19-20. All and all, it should be quite a year for football.

Strategy Fails; McDowell Loses

By The Associated Press
Sam McDowell, one of the most feared pitchers in the major leagues, has yet to win 20 games in a season as Cleveland Manager Alvin Dark devised a strategy to give him one out of a helping hand.

Dark devised a scheme, but as has happened so often with the best of pitchers, the one went away and instead of helping victory May 20, McDowell came away with his sixth loss Wednesday night, dropping a 4-1 decision to the Washington Senators.

But the Indians' skipper has four more weeks to go in the season to think up more strategy and McDowell should have five more starts in quest of his goal.

The Senators however foiled Dark's strategy and used infield hits and batted plays to stop the Indians while Dick Bosman limited Cleveland to four hits.

McDowell walked Washington slugger Frank Howard three times intentionally, twice as a leadoff hitter. The second time, Howard moved to third on infield hits by Rick Reichardt and Aurelio Rodriguez and scored on a wild pitch.

In the sixth inning, McDowell moved to first base with two on and one out and Howard the batter. Dean Chance came on to pitch and Howard batted out an infield dribbler as first went uncovered, loading the bases.

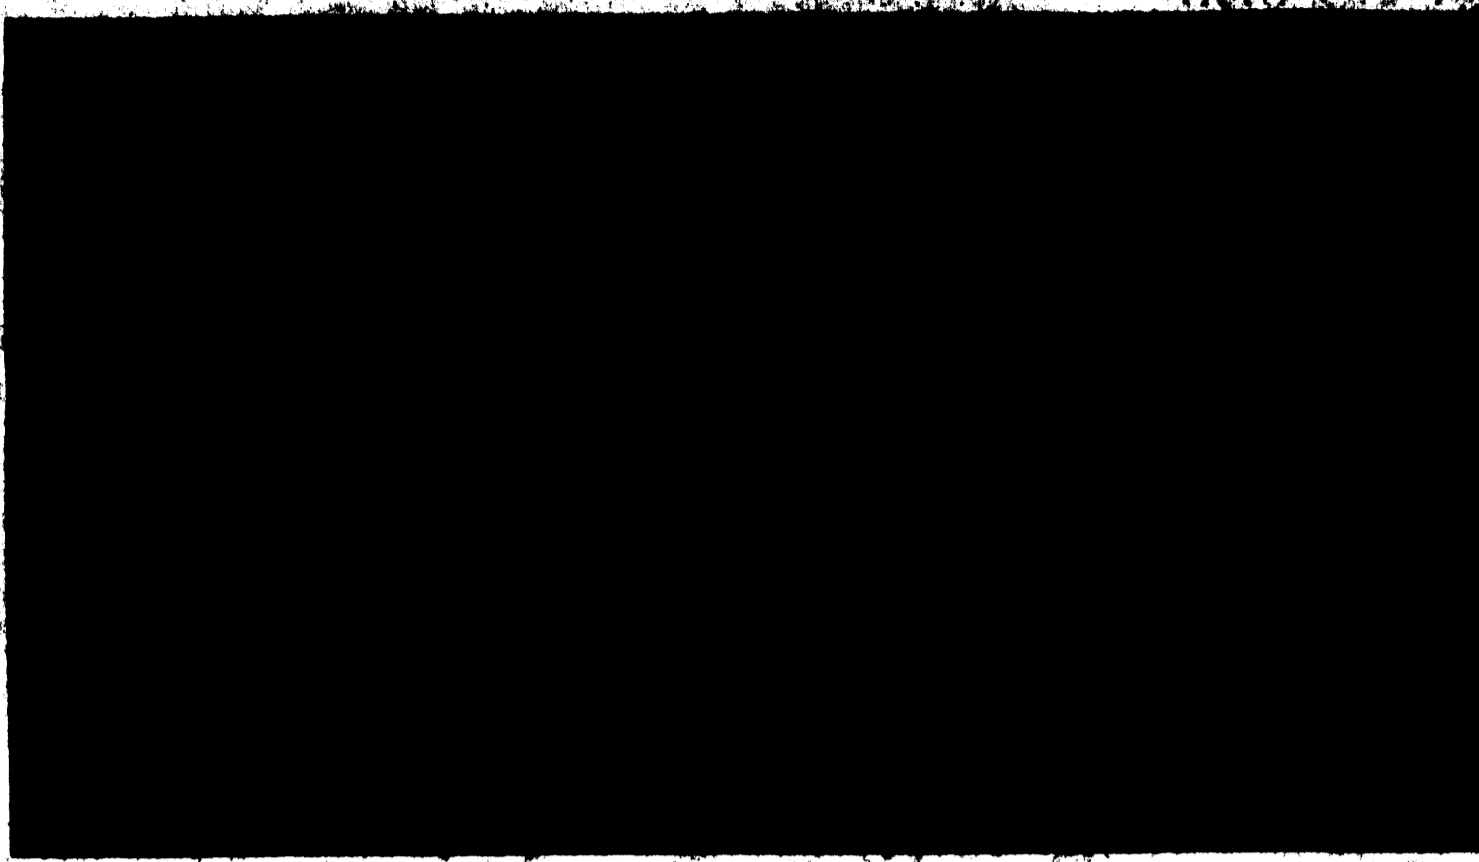

Two runs then scored when Reichardt bounced into a force-out as Wayne Comer scored from second on the late throw to McDowell at first base, trying for the double play. Chance pitched 7-3 of an inning and McDowell returned to finish the game on the mound.

The 27-year-old left-hander gave up 11 hits and walked six while striking out six. McDowell, who in six full seasons and parts of three has won 119 and lost 59, came closest to winning 20 games last year when he compiled an 18-14 mark.

In other AL games, New York edged Baltimore 2-1. Detroit split with Boston, copying the day half of a doubleheader 6-4 before losing at night 10-1. Oakland trimmed Chicago 3-1. California defeated Kansas City 3-1 and the Milwaukee at Minnesota game was called by rain.

Horace Clarke drilled a bases-loaded double in the seventh inning, capping a two-out, three-run rally against 21-game winner Dave McNally, for the Yankees' victory.

McNally, who had won nine straight, got his eighth loss—his first since July 18. Gene Michael had knocked in the first New York run before Clarke delivered his two-run blow against the East Division leaders.

U.P. Champs Play Saturday

Merchants Enter State Tourney

Landing Here We Come... is the cry of the Upper Peninsula Class A softball champions, the Escanaba Merchants, as they prepare to leave Friday for the State Class A softball tournament which will be held over the Labor Day weekend.

The Merchants, with an overall record of 23 wins and 7 losses will be playing Elk Rapids from northern-lower Michigan in their first game of the double elimination tournament on Saturday morning at 11:30 at Randy's Park in the state capital area.

Denny Moreau, manager of the Merchants, says that there have been quite a few highlights so far this year for the Merchants including winning the league title with a 17-1 record, coming out of the losers bracket to win the Class A district crown, beating Woody's Bar of Ishpeming twice enroute to capturing the U. P. championship. A fine showing, which we expect, in the state tournament will climax a successful year.

The Merchants picked up a couple of extra line players through the softball regulation rules for the tourney and they will be on the roster to give the Merchants added support. They are Ken Robinson and Werner Maki, one of the better pitchers in the U. P., from Woody's Bar of Ishpeming. Maki has played and pitched in the state finals for the last five years on various teams which have been representing the U. P. in the downstate meet.

Moreau says that the starting lineup for the first game and their respective averages will be as follows: pitching Bill McGovern .369; catching Tony Duchen .265; first Don Martenson .260; second Jan Moran .360; shortstop Bill Goodson .360; third Wally Flath .463; left Cliff O'Donnell .340; center Al Erickson and right Bob Corvieve who will be making his 11th appearance in the state tournament batting .390.

Other players who will be in action for the Merchants and their averages are Keith Glusening .461 and Jack Anner .381.

Here's Howes

by Don Howes

Don Young, winner of the Dennis McGinn award at Holy Name this past year and a standout for the Crusaders football team last fall, scampers into the area and some, from about eight feet out, in scoring one of the three touchdowns that the Northern Michigan Wildcats made in a 30 minute goal line scrimmage over the weekend. So far, Rolfe Dotch, head football coach of the Wildcats, has expressed dissatisfaction with the way some of the veterans have been performing, stating there has been too many mental mistakes. However, Dotch has been pleased with the fine freshman candidates so far during the drills.

With all the happenings going on around the area golf courses recently, an overlooked hole-in-one was turned up. Jack Manning turned in the specialty at the Escanaba Country Club on Sunday, Aug. 23 on the seventh hole using an eight iron.

Marquette, Escanaba's foe in the season opener Friday night, had the second highest football turnout in the schools history this year. Coach Bob Apple was greeted by 185 candidates, including 55 for the varsity... but the Redskins will have their problems... losing 28 members of the '69 squad including both their No. 1 and 2 quarterbacks and have only eight letterman back overall.

Paul Spicker took a 25-footer on the 10th hole last Sunday to edge another halfway veteran Bill Campen for medalist honors in qualifying play for the annual Marquette Golf and Country Club championship which will be decided this weekend.

Racing action at the Escanaba Speedway this week will be held on Monday night, Sept. 7, with drivers making final bids for the top spots with a double point night scheduled. Several more weeks of racing is still slated at the Escanaba Speedway and drivers will be going all out to move up in the point standings in the home stretch.

The weekly point standings at the Speedway shows modified driver Ed Fowley still in first place with a 245 point lead over Bob Iverson while Wanda Thompson has a 235 point lead over Pat Temple. The point standings as of today are as follows:

1. Ed Fowley	245	1. Wanda Thompson	214

3. Jerry Miller	230	3. Larry Baker	200

Patterson Tops Bosox; Seeks Winning Season

BOSTON (AP) — Daryl Patterson has never had a winning season in six years of professional baseball, but thanks to the Boston Red Sox he seems like a sure bet to rectify that situation this time around.

The Detroit right-hander pitched three hitless innings of relief Wednesday to defeat the Red Sox for the second game in a row as the Tigers took a 6-4 decision in the first half of a day-night doubleheader before dropping the nightcap, 10-1.

The victory boosted Patterson's record to 6-1 this season, including a 4-0 mark plus one save against the Red Sox, who seem to have become his personal whipping boys.

Recalling his season-long mastery over Boston, Patterson said he pitched well in his save, which came early in July at Detroit, then won a game a couple of nights later in which "I didn't pitch too well, but our team was scoring some runs."

His second triumph over the Red Sox came here early in August, and also had a lot of good fortune attached to it.

"I came on in relief in a tie game, and the first pitch I threw to Carl Yastrzemski he hit it for a home run to put Boston ahead, but we pulled it out as (Dick) Mendenhall's two-run homer in the ninth and I got credit for the win," Patterson remembered.

The third victory came Tuesday night when Patterson, who is four Detroit hurlers in a 16-0 slugfest, was adjudged the most effective by the official scorer and was credited with the win even though he was not the pitcher of record when the winning run scored.

McLain Doesn't Expect Tigers To Trade Him

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tiger pitcher Denny McLain, mellowed but still believing his latest suspension was unjust, says he doesn't expect to be traded by General Manager Jim Campbell.

"I'm very confident I'll be here next year," said the controversial right-hander at his suburban home Wednesday. "Detroit has been good to me and I'd have to say I expect to stay here a long time."

Since McLain was suspended Friday night by Campbell for dousing two local sportswriters with buckets of water, several newspaper stories have predicted Denny would be traded.

Part of the belief, undoubtedly, came from Denny's own lips when he said that at the suspension meeting in Campbell's office "I got down on my knees and begged to be traded because of the way he has run the team for the last three or four years."

Typing Campbell announced McLain's latest suspension, his second in five months, would be lifted midnight Friday. This came after a conference between Campbell and Tiger owner John F. Peters, former baseball writers Jim Hawkins of the Detroit Free Press and Walter Spector of the Detroit News, plus Denny's business manager William Carpenter of Cleveland.

Wednesday McLain said he has withdrawn a grievance request he made against Tiger management through Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association.

Northern Illinois, at DeKalb, Ill., will play five of its 10 football games at night this season. The Panthers and their coach at home against Buffalo on Nov. 21.

Then came Wednesday's game, which was certainly a gift. Patterson came on in a tie game in the seventh inning—always a disadvantage for a visiting pitcher, who must pitch one inning less than the home pitcher. He did that, watched his runs come up with a pair of runs in the eighth, then blanked the Red Sox in the final two innings to nail down the triumph.

Will Face Sox Again
After one more game against the Red Sox here tonight, the Tigers play Boston only twice more—at Detroit next week—and you can bet Patterson will be anxiously awaiting the chance to get in one of those contests. Even without his Red Sox "curse" to pitch to, however, the likely pitcher should make it to the end of this season well above the .500 mark.

Harvard University of Clinton and will play five of its 10 football games at night this fall.

Upper Peninsula Football Season Opens Friday

Key Clashes On Tap For Area Gridders

The 1970 Upper Peninsula high school gridiron season opens with a near full slate of games on tap as 37 of the peninsula's record number of 42 prep teams swing into action with a total of 20 games this weekend. Not only does the U.P. have a record number of teams, but they will be playing a record number of 184 games, eleven more than a year ago.

Highlighting the season's opening contests will be Escanaba's contest at Marquette, Iron Mountain's invasion of Holy Name, Gwinn's encounter with Gladstone and Ishpeming's clash with Manistique. Wakefield's conference clash with rival Ironwood, Menominee's contest at West Iron County and Newberry's clash with Munising are also considered top openers.

Great Northern Strong

The Great Northern Conference will again have most of the football strength in the Peninsula with defending co-champion Menominee getting serious challenges from the entire league, especially co-champion Kingsford, Escanaba and Holy Name. West Iron County and Iron Mountain cannot be taken easily and will be playing the role as spoilers. These two are considered the dark horses of the league. It's a good bet the 1970 U.P. football champion will be coming from the Great Northern.

Whether the Menominee Maroons, last year's U.P. champions, can repeat will depend on Coach Ken Hofer's getting replacement for last year's heavy graduation losses. Strong challengers for the U.P. title this year are Escanaba, Holy Name, Kingsford, Ishpeming, West Iron County, Gladstone, Ironwood, Negaunee and possibly Gwinn. L'Anse, Norway and Stephenson loom as potential small school challengers.

Five New Grid Teams

Five new high school teams will be joining the peninsula grid ranks, along with a near dozen grid mentors. Carney, White Pine, and Even-Trout Creek will be fielding their first teams in history, while Ironwood Catholic and Baraga are returning to the gridiron after a lapse of several years. Lake Linden along with the five newcomers will be playing independent football schedules.

The 42 Peninsula teams will be playing in eight circuits, the Great Northern, Great Lakes, Copper Country, Michigan-Wisconsin, Land of Lake, Eastern U.P., Straits Huron and the Wolverine conferences.

Teams like Hancock, Gwinn, St. Ignace and Rudyard, which had banner seasons last year, may be hard-pressed to repeat their fine performances in their respective conferences this year.

Gladstone, the defending Great Lakes Conference champions and also considered to be a title contender again this fall, may get serious arguments from Ishpeming, Negaunee, Marquette and possibly Manistique.

L'Anse appears to be a prime Copper Country Conference choice, with strong opposition coming from Calumet and Hancock.

Ironwood, along with neighboring Hurley in the western part of the U.P. have been tabbed again as the choices in the

U.P. Champs Play Saturday

Merchants Enter State Tourney

Lansing Here We Come . . . is the cry of the Upper Peninsula Class A softball champions, the Escanaba Merchants, as they prepare to leave Friday for the State Class A softball tournament which will be held over the Labor Day weekend.

The Merchants, with an overall record of 33 wins and 7 losses will be playing Elk Rapids from northern-lower Michigan in their first game of the double elimination tournament on Saturday morning at 11:30 at Randy's Park in the state capital area.

Denny Moreau, manager of the Merchants, says that there have been quite a few highlights so far this year for the Merchants including winning the league title with a 17-1 record, coming out of the losers bracket to win the Class A district crown, beating Woody's Bar of Ishpeming twice enroute to capturing the U. P. championship. A fine showing, which we expect, in the state tournament will climax a successful year.

The Merchants picked up a couple of extra fine players through the softball regulation rules for the tourney and they will be on the roster to give the Merchants added support. They are Ken Rabitaille of the Escanaba Independents and Werner Maki, one of the better pitchers in the U. P., from Woody's Bar of Ishpeming. Maki has played and pitched in the state finals for the last five years on various teams which have been representing the U. P. in the downstate meet.

Moreau says that the starting lineup for the first game and their respective averages will be as follows: pitching Bill McGovern .369; catching Tony Derkos .265; First Don Martineau .299; second Jan Morin .363; shortstop Bill Goodreau .266; third Wally Flath .483; left Cliff O'Donnell .240; center Al Erickson and right Bob Corriveau who will be making his 11th appearance in the state tournament batting .390.

Other players who will be in action for the Merchants and their averages are Keith Gluessing .461 and Jack Annear .281.

Here's Howes

by Don Howes

Dan Young, winner of the Dennis McGinn award at Holy Name this past year and a standout for the Crusaders football team last fall, scampared into the end zone, from about eight feet out, in scoring one of the three touchdowns that the Northern Michigan Wildcats made in a 90 minute goal line scrimmage over the weekend. So far, Rolie Dotsch, head football coach of the Wildcats, has expressed dissatisfaction with the way some of the veterans have been performing, stating there has been too many mental mistakes. However, Dotsch has been pleased with the fine freshman candidates so far during the drills.

With all the happenings going on around the area golf courses recently, an overlooked hole-in-one was turned up. Jack Manning turned in the specialty at the Escanaba Country Club on Sunday, Aug. 23 on the seventh hole using an eight iron.

Marquette, Escanaba's foe in the season opener Friday night, had the second highest football turnout in the schools history this year. Coach Bob Apple was greeted by 158 candidates, including 58 for the varsity . . . but the Redmen will have their problems . . . losing 22 members of the '69 squad including both their No. 1 and 2 quarterbacks and have only eight lettermen back overall.

Paul Specker sank a 35-footer on the 18th hole last Sunday to edge another fairway veteran Bill Connors for medalist honors in qualifying play for the annual Marquette Golf and Country Club championship which will be decided this weekend.

Racing action at the Escanaba Speedway this week will be held on Monday night, Sept. 7 with drivers making final bids for the top spots with a double point night scheduled. Several more weeks of racing is still slated at the Escanaba Speedway and drivers will be going all out to move up in the point standings in the home stretch.

The weekly point standings at the Speedway shows modified driver Ed Powley still in first place with a 345 point lead over Bob Iverson while Wenne Tourangeau has a 235 point lead over Pat Temple. The point standings as of today are as follows:

Patterson Tops Bosox; Seeks Winning Season

BOSTON (AP) — Daryl Patterson has never had a winning season in six years of professional baseball, but thanks to the Boston Red Sox he seems like a sure bet to rectify that situation this time around.

The Detroit right-hander pitched three hitless innings of relief Wednesday to defeat the Red Sox for the second game in a row as the Tigers took a 6-4 decision in the first half of a day-night doubleheader before dropping the nightcap, 10-1.

The victory boosted Patterson's record to 6-1 this season, including a 4-0 mark plus one save against the Red Sox, who seem to have become his personal whipping boys.

Recalling his season-long mastery over Boston, Patterson said he pitched well in his save, which came early in July at Detroit, then won a game a couple of nights later in which "I didn't pitch too well, but our team was scoring some runs."

Beats Sox Twice

His second triumph over the Red Sox came early in August, and also had a bit of good fortune attached to it.

"I came on in relief in a tie game, and the first pitch I threw to (Carl) Yazstrzanski he hit it for a home run to put Boston ahead, but we pulled it out on (Dick) McAuliffe's two-run slugger, was adjudged the most effective by the official scorer and was credited with the win even though he was not the pitcher of record when the winning run scored.

The third victory came Tuesday night when Patterson, one of four Detroit hurlers in a 10-9 homer in the ninth and I got credit for the win," Patterson remembered.

McLain Doesn't Expect Tigers To Trade Him

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tiger pitcher Denny McLain, mellowed but still believing his latest suspension was unjust, says he doesn't expect to be traded by General Manager Jim Campbell.

"I'm very confident I'll be here next year," said the controversial righthander at his suburban home Wednesday. "Detroit has been good to me and I'd have to say I expect to stay here a long time."

Since McLain was suspended Friday night by Campbell for dousing two local sportswriters with buckets of water, several newspaper stories have predicted Denny would be traded.

Part of the belief, undoubtedly, came from Denny's own lips when he said that at the suspension meeting in Campbell's office "I got down on my knees and begged to be traded because of the way he has run the team for the last three or four years."

Tuesday Campbell announced McLain's latest suspension, his second in five months, would be lifted midnight Friday. This came after a conference between Campbell and Tiger owner John Fetzer, doused baseball writers Jim Hawkins of the Detroit Free Press and Watson Spoelstra of the Detroit News, plus Denny's business manager William Carpenter of Cleveland.

Wednesday McLain said he has withdrawn a grievance request he made against Tiger management through Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association.

Northern Illinois, at DeKalb, Ill., will play five of its 10 football games at night this season. The Panthers end their season at home against Buffalo on Nov. 21.

"I didn't even know about that one until somebody told me in the clubhouse," Patterson said. "I didn't know it was possible for the official scorer to do that, but I'm grateful. I'll take anything."

Then came Wednesday's game, which was certainly no gift. Patterson came on in a tie game in the seventh inning—always a disadvantage for a visiting pitcher, who must pitch one shutout inning just to get things even. He did that, watched his mates come up with a pair of runs in the eighth, then blanked the Red Sox in the final two innings to nail down the triumph.

Will Face Sox Again

After one more game against the Red Sox here tonight, the Tigers play Boston only twice more—at Detroit next week—and you can bet Patterson will be anxiously awaiting the chance to get in one of those contests. Even without his Red Sox "cousins" to pitch to, however, the lanky right-hander should make it to the end of this season well above the .500 mark.

Xavier University of Cincinnati will play five of its 10 football games at night this fall.

Legendary Figure, Vince Lombardi Dies

Vince Lombardi, the greatest coach in the history of the National Football League, died of cancer at the age of 53. He was the head coach of the Green Bay Packers from 1959 to 1970, leading them to three consecutive NFL championships. Lombardi was born in Freeport, Wis., and played football at the University of Wisconsin. He was a member of the Packers' Hall of Fame and was widely regarded as one of the most successful and influential coaches in the sport.

Lombardi's death came as a surprise to many, as he had been in good health and was expected to continue coaching for several more years. He was found dead in his home in Green Bay on Sunday, September 13, 1971. The cause of death was cancer, which he had been fighting for some time.

Lombardi's legacy lives on through the Packers and the NFL. His coaching style, which emphasized hard work, discipline, and teamwork, has been emulated by many coaches since his death. The Packers have won several more championships since Lombardi's death, but none have been able to match the success of the team he led.

Lombardi's coaching record was remarkable. In 13 seasons with the Packers, he compiled a record of 173-93-10. He led the team to three consecutive NFL championships in 1959, 1960, and 1961. He was also named the NFL Coach of the Year in 1959 and 1960.

Lombardi's coaching style was based on the "Lombardi Linebacker," a position that was created by him. This position was designed to be a hybrid of a linebacker and a defensive end, and it was one of the most successful in the NFL during Lombardi's time.

Lombardi was also known for his strict discipline and his emphasis on hard work. He was a man who believed in the power of the team, and he was always looking for ways to improve his players. He was a coach who was respected by his players and by the fans.

Lombardi's death was a great loss to the NFL and to the sport of football. He was a man who had made a significant contribution to the sport, and his death was a tragedy for everyone who loved football.

Lombardi's legacy will live on for many years to come. His coaching style and his emphasis on hard work and teamwork will continue to inspire coaches and players alike. He was a true legend, and his death was a great loss to the sport.

Deep, Personal Loss To All Says Rozelle

By The Associated Press
Pete Rozelle, pro football commissioner, said, "The death of Vince Lombardi is a deep, personal loss to all in professional football, but those who will miss him the most are those who still had yet to play for him, who might have been taught by him, led by him, and coached by him."

Rozelle said that Lombardi was a man who had made a significant contribution to the sport, and his death was a tragedy for everyone who loved football.

Packers' Legendary Figure, Vince Lombardi Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vincent Thomas Lombardi, who became a legendary figure by building the Green Bay Packers into a world champion pro football dynasty, died early today in Georgetown University Hospital of cancer.

The 57-year-old Lombardi, head coach, executive vice president and part owner of the Washington Redskins at the time of his death, underwent surgery June 27 during which a tumor, said to be non-malignant, and two feet of colon were removed. One month later he underwent what was described as "assitional surgery" at the hospital.

A spokesman at the hospital said Lombardi succumbed at 7:12 a.m. EDT, his wife, Marie, at his side.

Lombardi leaves his widow, Marie, and two children, Vincent and Susan.

Winning Is The Only Thing

Lombardi, an awesome taskmaster with his players, lived by the motto: "Winning isn't the big thing. It's the only thing." And no one ever doubted it.

He arrived at Green Bay, Wis., population 70,000, in 1959 — one year after the Packers had posted a miserable 1-10-1 record, their worst ever.

He said he was "no miracle man," yet forged a 7-5 record during his first season, won the divisional championship the following year, and then proceeded to capture National Football League titles in 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966, and 1967. His Packers also won the first two Super Bowls against American Football League teams.

His nine-year coaching record at Green Bay was 89-29-4.

After becoming the first man in the NFL playoff history ever to win three straight championships, he retired as a coach to serve as general manager of the Packers. He later was to describe the one-year off-the-field as the worst 12 months of his life.

Joins Redskins

Lombardi joined the Washington Redskins, a team that hadn't had a winning season in 14 years and hadn't won a divisional championship in 27, in February of 1969.

"I hope to be a winner the first year," he told his first news conference in the nation's capital.

The record during his initial Redskins season—7 victories, 5 losses and 2 ties, was almost identical to the mark he made during his first Green Bay season.

It also kept intact Lombardi's record of never having a losing season in 10 years of pro football.

A native of New York, where he was born June 11, 1913, the 5-foot-7, 170-pound barrel-chested Lombardi played his collegiate football at Fordham University. He played guard and was one of the famed Seven Blocks of Granite in the middle 1930s.

After coaching and teaching at St. Cecilia High School in Englewood, N.J., he became line coach at Fordham.

In 1948, Lombardi was named assistant to Earl "Red" Blaik at West Point. He left the U.S. Military Academy in 1954, to join the New York Giants under Jim Lee Howell as offensive line coach. In four years with the Giants, they won two divisional titles and one world championship.

Takes Over Pack In '59

When he was named head coach of the Packers in 1959, Lombardi said: "A good football team is my No. 1 job and I am keeping that in mind at all times."

"I cannot make any predictions on what kind of team I'll have. But I know this much: You will be proud of the team because I will be proud of the team."

Lombardi was summing up his own philosophy.

Along with pride, he stressed love and dedication. For his players, this totaled up to hard work, sacrificing and success.

He often said one of his toughest jobs at both Green Bay and Washington was to do away with a defeatist attitude. "Defeatists won't be with the club very long," he said.

Players Respected Him

Lombardi drove his players unmercifully. Some may have feared him or hated him—it didn't really matter to Lombardi. But they all respected him.

"He gives you confidence," said Bart Starr, his Green Bay quarterback. "He gives you the proper mental attitude, and I think that's 90 per cent of it."

Sonny Jurgensen, his Washington quarterback, said of Lombardi during the 1969 season: "I've learned so much from that man in such a short time that it seems I've been

Vince Regarded As Hero In Packerland

WASHINGTON (AP) — In Green Bay, Vince Lombardi was compared favorably to God. When the sun shined on Packer Sundays—and almost invariably it did—they called it Lombardi Weather.

He reigned supreme over a compact and singularly successful universe that operated on Lombardi Time, 15 minutes ahead of everywhere else.

He was, by title, only a football coach. An expert in a game designed for school boys, a simple game—as he himself insisted—of blocking and tackling. Yet somehow, he made the game and himself seem much more.

"I don't think he ever taught me any football," said former Packer All-Pro defensive tackle Henry Jordan. "What he'd do three times a week was preach on life."

Lombardi, who died this morning of cancer, could be as blunt and punishing as the power sweep he made famous in turning a down and out Green Bay team into the scourge of the professional playing field.

He could also be a sensitive and even gentle man who could say that the special mark of his Packer teams was the love that held them together.

He was a man of grand emotions that a trifle could trigger. He was also a man with steely self control who often was at his most gracious after a particularly bitter defeat.

Lombardi could take grown men and whip them into a fury that forced tears of rage from their eyes or so intimidate an injured player (the Packers had no injuries) that he would jog up and down the grandstand steps of Lambeau Field despite a ripped cartilage that in a few days would require surgery.

A well-known Packer halfback once stood up in a restaurant and repeatedly slapped an imaginary face in savage mimicry of the day he would assert himself against his coach, Lombardi. That day never came.

Bluff as some might, most Packer players bowed before Lombardi.

Love him or hate him and some did both simultaneously, they respected him with a deference given few mortals.

"We'd go through fire for him," said Jordan, who years ago said of Lombardi: "He treats us all alike—like dogs."

Linebacker Ray Nitschke once sat transfixed during a football banquet. At the dais, Lombardi was speaking. He spoke of discipline and obedience and order—themes that Nitschke had heard the coach elaborate on countless times before.

"Listen to him," said Nitschke marveling.

Most marveled at Lombardi from a distance. Close social contact was reserved only for a few.

Never Close To Men

"To this day, I don't know whether he liked me or not," said Jordan, who played for Lombardi for almost a decade. "He just never let himself get close to the boys."

"There were some exceptions, Hornung, Max McGee, Jerry Kramer, Bart Starr. It was clear he liked them. But no one else knew. I'm aware that he respected us as football players but as far as liking us, he never let on."

Aloofness was part of the Lombardi way. "This is the way he wanted it," said Jimmy Taylor, who teamed with Hornung to form under Lombardi one of the greatest backfield combinations in football history.

Simplest Of Men

In his own way, Lombardi was the simplest of men.

The Jesuit Fathers had given him a vision of what life is all about when he was a young man at Fordham and he never betrayed it.

He believed in natural law and natural order, in leaders and followers, in God-given authority that presupposed obedience. He believed in God, the family and football.

It was a vision he defended against all comers and his weapons—intellect and will—were finely honed.

Where his emotions fit into this, he didn't say and when pressed, he would react with a mixture of embarrassment and irritation. "I'm no psychologist," he would insist.

Once during his final string of championships at Green Bay, he told his assistants during an interlude in training camp of a dream he had of standing on a mountain top and struggling to hold his footing while people tried to push him down the side.

And he laughed at what he considered the absurdity of the dream.

But over the years, many men had tried to make that dream a reality. None succeeded.

Former Champ, Cassius Clay Makes Debut

ATLANTA (AP) — Cassius Clay is back.

The former heavyweight champion, returning to the ring for the first time in more than three years, breezed through eight exhibition rounds Wednesday night and soundly defeated three opponents in the process.

"I came here expecting to see nothing and I saw it all," said Clay's trainer, Angelo Dundee of Miami, Fla. "All the bricks are in place; it's all there to work on and nothing is missing."

"His legs were perfect; his timing was there, it was beautiful. He's just amazing."

Clay, although 10 pounds above his last fighting weight of 211, was unmarked and only slightly winded as he decimated opponents Rufus Brasell of Lima, Ohio, Johnny Hudgens of Miami, Fla., and George Hill of Philadelphia, Pa. There were no knockdowns.

"I got a little tired out there; but I was satisfied to last eight rounds and be about 80 per cent active all the way through," Clay said. "I'm not in shape yet, but in eight weeks I'll come into the ring at 210 (pounds) and be ready."

The eight weeks mark a significant date in Clay's comeback plans. As it now stands, the former champion is scheduled to fight a major bout here Oct. 26.

Mike Malitz and Bob Kassell of Sports Action in New York said Clay's Oct. 26 opponent will either be Joe Frazier, the current heavyweight champion, or contenders Jerry Quarry of Bellflower, Calif., or Oscar Bonavena of Argentina.

It appears, they indicated, that the opponent will be Quarry.

Clay, who prefers to be called Muhammad Ali, was stripped of his title after being convicted on a federal charge of refusing induction into military service. His last bout was a three-round exhibition at Detroit, Mich., in June 1967 and his last title fight was in March the same year.

ball League adopted the play-off system in 1933.

"My No. 1 job in Green Bay is doing away with the defeatist attitude I know is here," he said. "Defeatists won't be with the club very long."

Lombardi then obtained via trades defensive standouts Henry Jordan, Bill Quinlan, Willie Davis and Lee Roy Caffey, offensive lineman Fred "Fuzzy" Thurston and wide receiver Carroll Dale.

He installed Bart Starr, a bench warmer until then, as his No. 1 quarterback and moved Paul Hornung, who had been a flop as a pro, to a running back position.

In his nine years as head coach, Lombardi's Packers won 89 regular season games, lost only 29 and tied four.

Vince's Farewell Speech

Had Best Job In Football

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — "I have had difficult assignments in my life, but this is my most difficult." Vince Lombardi told a Milwaukee audience two years ago.

"I had by far the best job in football."

The occasion was Lombardi's farewell speech at the Wisconsin chapter's first annual Pro Football Writers dinner. Just the week before, Lombardi had resigned as general manager of the Green Bay Packers to become head coach, executive vice president and part owner of the Washington Redskins.

Job Becomes Reality

The new post signaled the end of the Lombardi Era here, a 10-year span that saw the Packers rise from the league doormat to two successive Super Bowl championships.

Lombardi's first head coaching assignment above the high school level became a reality on Jan. 28, 1959, when he was named head coach and general manager of the then-floundering Packers. Ironically, he was named to the twin posts over the late Earl L. "Curly" Lambeau, the club's founder and coach for the first 30 of its 51-year history.

The former Fordham University lineman was a stern taskmaster who believed in achieving new goals rather than resting on past laurels. As coach and general manager, he insisted on perfection, demanded loyalty and stressed dedication.

Lombardi took over the reins of the Packers, a team that had posted a miserable 1-

FHA Involved With Teamster Pension Fund

(Editor's Note: The operations of a huge Teamsters Union pension fund has been under steady federal scrutiny for several years. But, apparently unknown to the government, the fund is benefiting from Federal Housing Administration programs, as detailed in this dispatch from the AP Special Assignment Team.)

By DICK BARNES
SAN DIEGO, Cal. (AP) — The Federal Housing Administration has made more than $80 million worth of transactions in the past two years involving a giant and off-investigated Teamsters Union pension fund.

The government official who approved the arrangements—issuing one of the largest loan guarantees ever made by the FHA—also has become president of a subsidiary of a corporation partly owned by the pension fund.

All 44 San Diego transactions, all involving the FHA's San Diego office, came to light during an Associated Press investigation. The FHA in Washington says it does not believe it knew at the time of the transactions that they involved the Teamsters Union's Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund—the nation's largest labor-management pension fund.

The transactions included:—issuing a $50 million loan development loan to a company whose stock is held by the pension fund. The guarantee constitutes 50 per cent of an $80 million loan. It is among the 25 largest guarantees ever made by FHA under any program, the agency said.

—arranging at least $11.5 million in 2 per cent subordinated loans to San Diego corporations, ultimately, one-third owned by the pension fund.

—issuing a $2.5 million loan at market interest rates for another such corporation.

The Teamsters' pension fund, commonly called the Central States fund, has been the subject of numerous government investigations.

Project Probe
Teamsters president James R. Hoffa was convicted of mail fraud in connection with Central States fund dealings. A federal grand jury is probing the fund's financing of a massive Los Angeles land development project. A lengthy series of federal court trials in New York concern alleged kickbacks paid to get fund loans.

Despite this attention from government investigators, the fund was able to benefit from FHA programs.

An FHA official in Washington said there is no prohibition against the agency dealing with a union, a union pension fund or a firm whose stock is held by either.

The San Diego transactions were approved by E.L. Tagwerker, director at the time of the FHA office here. Tagwerker took early retirement last February and went to work as president of Great Western Mortgage Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of Pennacchio Inc., a land development firm.

Didn't Report Job
The president of Pennacchio is Irvin J. Kahn, a major San Diego builder who, FHA officials said, negotiated the various loans and guarantees. Pennacchio is 50 per cent owned by the Central States fund.

Tagwerker said in an interview he selected the job with the Kahn organization from among "quite a few proposals I was considering with various organizations."

Asked if he had contemplated or received a job offer from Kahn while processing the loans, Tagwerker said "absolutely not."

In answer to questions, Tagwerker said: "I don't know whether FHA at that time (when the transactions were approved) knew anything about Central States, what their ownership position was. I think everybody was aware that Central States had made a loan to Pennacchio."

Comment Denied
Lester Curran, associate general counsel in the Department of Housing and Urban Development, said routinely information on Central States ownership "would not have come to our attention in Washington. But it would be virtually impossible for anybody to certify that nobody knew about it when those transactions took place."

Charles L. Dempsey, deputy director of HUD's Office of Investigations, was told a reporter wished to ask some questions in San Diego including the Central States fund, he said. "I can't answer that," he said.

FHA officials show that in 1964, the fund had $100 million in assets for fund operations, total about $200 million, the Central States fund acquired a 20 per cent stock interest in Kahn's Pennacchio Inc. The stock ownership ended the fund to 25 per cent of the firm's dividends.

Largest Deal
Pennacchio Inc., in turn, owns a number of subsidiaries with which the FHA has dealt.

The largest deal dates back to July 1960, when Pennacchio Inc. began conferring with the FHA about Bay Terraces, a project that would be built on 200 acres in San Diego to accommodate 25,000 residents.

Under the FHA's Title 10 program, a land developer gets his loan from a private lender to prepare the land for construction, but the government insures the lender against loss. Money for construction is not involved.

After studying the project, estimated to cost $200 million, the FHA issued on Feb. 23, 1960, a formal invitation to apply for the $50 million loan guarantee under the Title 10 program.

The loan and FHA insurance papers were signed, not by Pennacchio, but by Southern California Terraces Inc., which was incorporated March 5, 1960, and March 11 with the California corporation commencing show that Southern California Terraces had one share of stock outstanding. It was held by Pennacchio, Inc.

Stock Transferred
An application from Pennacchio dated March 11 sought permission—while the corporation commencing—for all the stock of Southern California Terraces to be turned over to the Central States fund as security for a separate $50-million loan. Thus, the fund held all the stock in the firm when the firm got the FHA-insured loan.

Ted A. Guilman, deputy director of the FHA's San Diego office, said in an interview: "We knew very little about Central States and the pension fund. We have become aware Mr. Kahn had some of his financing through this pension fund, but his dealings beyond that we didn't know."

Daryl Gitt, chief underwriter of the office, said it is standard procedure to check on applicant's credit, but not the corporate structure.

Used Program
FHA Title 10 land development loan guarantee program has been little utilized since it went into effect in 1957. As of April 30, 14 guarantees totaling $25.7 million had gone into force. The guarantee to the Central States fund was the eighth largest since any other, and constituted more than 70 per cent of the entire program in effect.

There are other FHA transactions involving the Central States fund:

—In September 1962, the FHA approved a $250,000 loan for Pennacchio Village Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Pennacchio Inc. During the 40-year life, the 2 per cent interest rate loan is held by the Government National Mortgage Association, a government organization which helps generate mortgage money.

The difference between the 2 per cent the government collects is interest and the amount it must pay to borrow money—now at least double that—is a subsidy. The program is designed to stimulate construction of low and moderate-income housing, such as the 200 units Pennacchio Village is building.

In June 1963, FHA approved a similar deal for $7,500,000 with Pennacchio Gardens Inc., another wholly owned Pennacchio Inc. subsidiary. This project involves 604 units.

Also in June 1963, FHA insured a $2,500,000 loan to Pennacchio Hills Inc., yet another Pennacchio Inc. subsidiary. This guarantee, under a different program, carried no interest rate subsidy.

FHA Involved With Teamster Pension Fund

(Editor's Note: The operations of a huge Teamsters Union pension fund has been under steady federal scrutiny for several years. But, apparently unbeknownst to the government, the fund is benefiting from Federal Housing Administration programs, as detailed in this dispatch from the AP Special Assignment Team.)

By DICK BARNES
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Federal Housing Administration has made more than $30 million worth of transactions in the past two years involving a giant and oft-investigated Teamsters Union pension fund.

The government official who approved the arrangements—including one of the largest loan guarantees ever made by the FHA—since has become president of a subsidiary of a corporation partly owned by the pension fund.

All At San Diego

The transactions, all involving the FHA's San Diego office, came to light during an Associated Press investigation. The FHA in Washington says it does not believe it knew at the time of the transactions that they involved the Teamsters Union's Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund — the nation's largest labor-management pension fund.

The transactions include:

- Insuring a $16 million loan development loan to a company whose stock is held by the pension fund. The guarantee constitutes 70 per cent of an entire federal program. It is among the 25 largest guarantees ever made by FHA under any program, the agency said.

- Arranging at least $11.8 million in 3 per cent subsidized loans to San Diego corporations ultimately one-fifth owned by the pension fund.

- Insuring a $3.26 million loan at market interest rates for another such corporation.

This Teamsters' pension fund, commonly called the Central States fund, has been the subject of numerous government investigations.

Project Probed

Teamsters president James R. Hoffa was convicted of mail fraud in connection with Central States fund dealings. A federal grand jury is probing the fund's financing of a massive Los Angeles land development project.

A lengthy series of federal court trials in New York concerns alleged kickbacks paid to get fund loans.

Despite this attention from government investigators, the fund was able to benefit from FHA programs.

An FHA official in Washington said there is no prohibition against the agency dealing with a union, a union pension fund or a firm whose stock is held by either.

The San Diego transactions were approved by E.L. Tagwerker, director at the time of the FHA office here. Tagwerker took early retirement last February and went to work as president of Great Western Mortgage Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of Penasquitos Inc., a land development firm.

Didn't Expect Job

The president of Penasquitos is Irvin J. Kahn, a major San Diego builder who, FHA officials said, negotiated the various loans and guarantees. Penasquitos is 20 per cent owned by the Central States fund.

Tagwerker said in an interview he selected the job with the Kahn organization from among "quite a few proposals I was considering with various organizations."

Asked if he had contemplated or received a job offer from Kahn while processing the loans, Tagwerker said "absolutely not."

In answer to questions, Tagwerker said: "I don't know whether FHA at that time (when the transactions were approved) knew anything about Central States, what their ownership position was. I think everybody was aware that Central States had made a loan to Penasquitos."

Comment Declined

Leslie Carson, associate general counsel in the Department of Housing and Urban Development, said routinely information on Central States ownership "would not have come to our attention in Washington. But it would be virtually impossible for anybody to certify that nobody knew about it when those transactions took place."

Charles L. Dempsey, deputy director of HUD's Office of Investigations, was told a reporter wished to ask about some transactions in San Diego involving the Central States fund, but he said flatly: "I can't comment on it at all."

Kahn could not be reached for comment.

Public records show that in early 1968, in exchange for fund loans which now total about $33 million, the Central States fund acquired a 20 per cent stock interest in Kahn's Penasquitos Inc. The stock ownership entitles the fund to 25 per cent of the firm's dividends.

Largest Deal

Penasquitos Inc., in turn, owns a number of subsidiaries with which the FHA has dealt.

The largest deal dates back to July 1968, when Penasquitos Inc. began conferring with the FHA about Bay Terraces, a project that would be bulldozed out of 820 hillside acres in San Diego to accommodate 23,000 residents.

Under the FHA's Title 10 program, a land developer gets his loan from a private lender to prepare the land for construction, but the government insures the lender against loss. Money for construction is not involved.

After studying the project, estimated to eventually cost $200 million, the FHA issued on Feb. 25, 1969, a formal invitation to apply for the $16 million loan guarantee under the Title 10 program.

The loan and FHA insurance papers were signed, not by Penasquitos, but by Southern California Terraces Inc., which was incorporated March 5. Papers filed March 11 with the California corporations commissioner show that Southern California Terraces had one share of stock outstanding. It was held by Penasquitos Inc.

Stock Transferred

An application from Penasquitos dated March 11 sought permission—which the corporation commissioner granted—for all the stock of Southern California Terraces to be turned over to the Central States Fund as security for a separate $5.4 million loan. Thus, the fund held all the stock in the firm when the firm got the FHA-insured loan.

Ted A. Guiliani, deputy director of the FHA's San Diego office, said in an interview: "We know very little about Central States and the pension fund. We have become aware Mr. Kahn had some of his financing through this pension fund, but his dealings beyond that we didn't know."

Deryl Gift, chief underwriter at the office, said it is standard procedure to check an applicant's credit, but not the corporate structure.

Used Program

FHA Title 10 land development loan guarantee program has been little utilized since it went into effect in 1967. As of April 30, 14 guarantees totaling $22.7 million had gone into force. The guarantee to the Central States-linked firm was eight times larger than any other, and constituted more than 70 per cent of the entire program in effect.

These are other FHA transactions involving the Central States fund:

- In September 1968, the FHA approved a $4,244,000 loan for Penasquitos Village Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Penasquitos Inc. During its 40-year life, the 3 per cent interest rate loan is held by the Government National Mortgage Association, a government organization which helps generate mortgage monies.

- The difference between the 3 per cent the government collects in interest and the amount it must pay to borrow money—now at least double that—is a subsidy. The program is designed to stimulate construction of low and moderate-income housing, such as the 332 units Penasquitos Village is building.

- In June 1969, FHA approved a similar deal for $7,555,500 with Penasquitos Gardens Inc., another wholly owned Penasquitos Inc. subsidiary. This project involves 504 units.

- Also in June 1969, FHA insured a $3,260,700 loan to Penasquitos Hills Inc., yet another Penasquitos Inc., subsidiary. This guarantee, under a different program, carried no interest rate subsidy.

COME TO COYNE CHEVROLET AND DRIVE THE LITTLE CAR THAT BEGS TO BE DRIVEN.

You've probably heard a lot about the Vega by now. Well, we want you to forget it all. Forget that the Vega comes in four models: coupe, sedan, wagon and panel truck. Forget that it gets around 25 miles to the gallon. Forget that even the standard sedan comes with a 90-horsepower overhead-cam aluminum alloy engine, front disc brakes and front bucket seats. Forget all that and just take Vega for a test-drive. That, all by itself, will convince you. Vega's tight, maneuverable. It's downright fun. See for yourself. Today.

The Fighter's Baffle

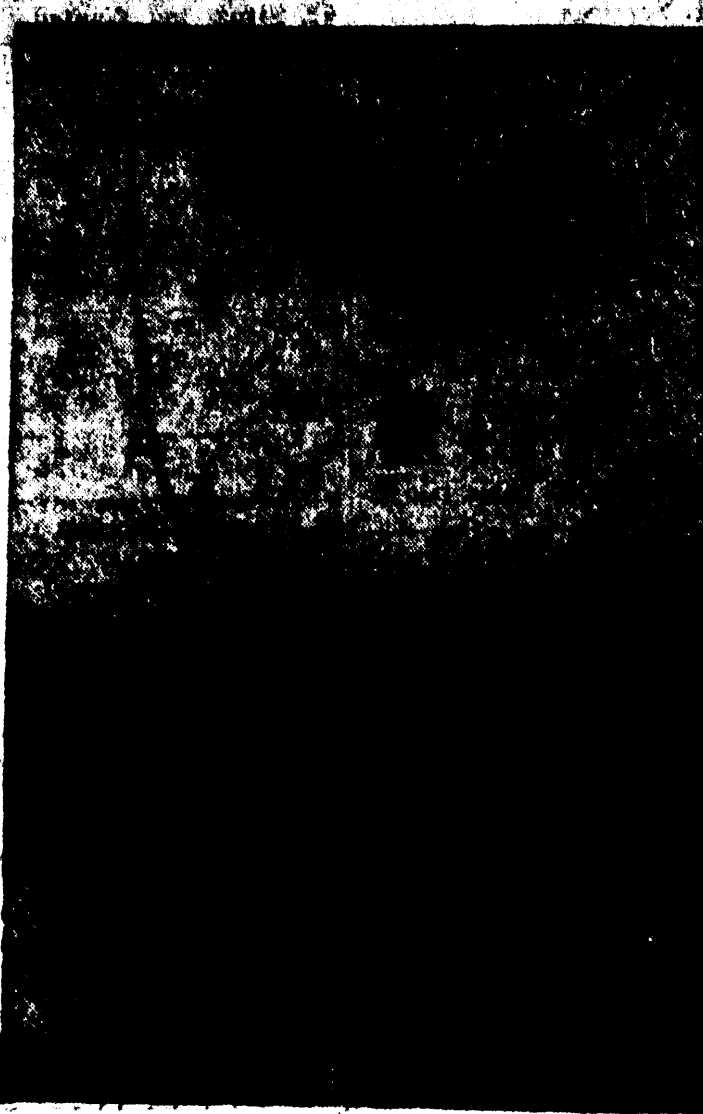

DETROIT (AP) — A supposed Detroit fire fighter has lost first round of a court battle to keep his bulky mouse, despite his lawyer's request that in 1967 fire fighters were urged to grow such whiskers as part of a centennial celebration.

Judge Circuit Judge George Bowles claimed that Jerry Bowles' lawyer, John D. Reese Jr., failed to prove a case of a directed verdict to throw an unconstitutional Detroit Department regulations adding such things as mouse whiskers "down below" under the line.

But Bowles agreed to hear oral arguments. Reese said he would be back next week.

Reese, 37, a five-year Detroit fire fighter who wears a mouse as well as the whiskers, is protesting rules set by the Fire Commission in the name of safety.

Reese said the rules were not as strict as they should be and that the rules were not as strict as they should be.

Federal Timber Rebate Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Timber sharing in fees collected from users of federal timberlands are receiving smaller checks this year because of a tighter market for lumber and other forest products.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin announced today that payments totaling approximately $11.2 million are being mailed to 20 states and Puerto Rico that are sharing in the annual receipts collected from users of national forests.

The payments, representing

25 per cent of 1968 timber and forest products, were paid last June 30, the last date for the 1967 payments.

A spokesman for the U.S. Forest Service in the Agriculture Department said the small drop in the share was due to the "depressed timber market" last year, reducing the log in forest building and other uses of timber.

Sales of timber from national forests, according to the spokesman, are down from last year. Included in the share are the 10-year-old growth, recreation, power and other uses. About 10 per cent of the grant collection is turned back to the states for conservation and maintenance. The balance goes into the federal treasury.

Reese said he would be back next week. The balance goes into the federal treasury.

Top Homemaker Named In State

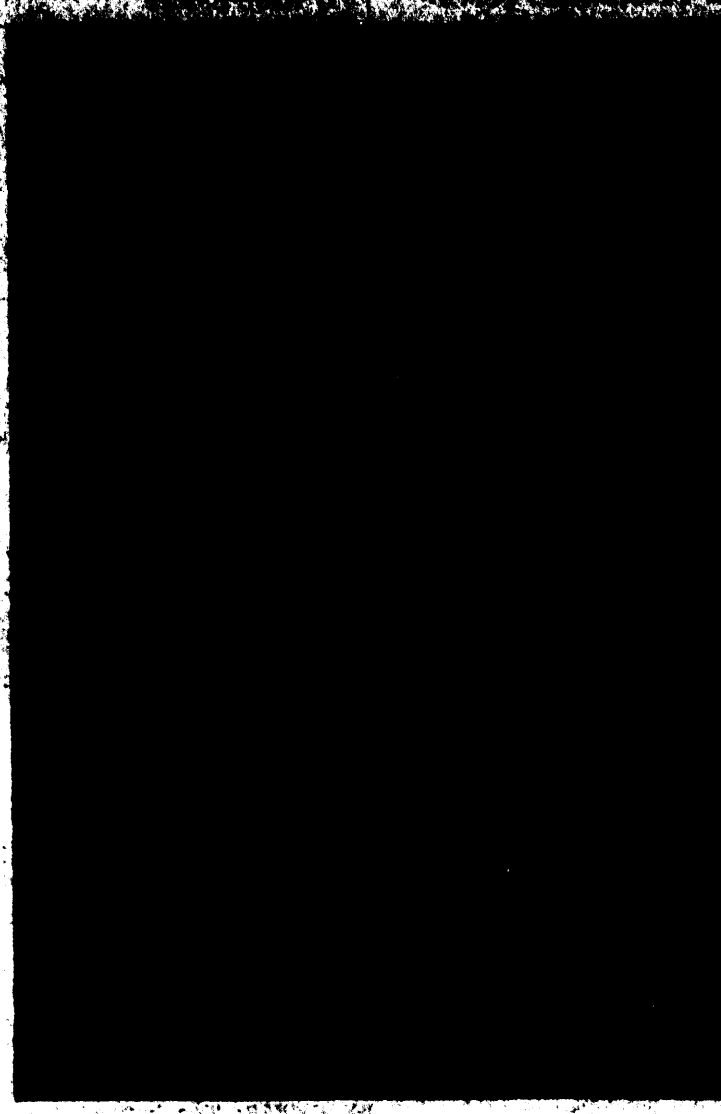

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Paul Grover of Kalamazoo was crowned 1968 Homemaker of the Year by Gov. Romney's wife today at the Michigan State Fair.

Mrs. Grover's 70 entries took a total of 21 ribbons to accumulate 140 points — far ahead of any other entrant. She received an engraved silver tray as her award.

Asked for her secret, Mrs. Grover said "I guess I just like to cook and sew, and when you have three hungry ones and a hardworking husband around, you have to have new ideas. You get so you like to have something different all the time."

The 44-year-old housewife said she learned to cook through the 4-H Club, of which she is still a member.

The South probably received the name of Dixie from $10 bills printed in New Orleans by the Citizens Bank of Louisiana and used up and down the Mississippi. The bills carried the French word for ten, "Dix." The original lyrics of the popular song were: "I wish I was in the land of the Dixie."

NEW HILLS — The Mrs. Steven Hardman holds up a copy of the Dixie that English-speaking Catholics have been using for 250 years, while Dixie lives in Washington for the manuscript of a new one to be published Sept. 30. The old Dixie is a translation of a translation based on 1,500-year-old Latin Vulgate. The new, in which 51 scholars labored for 25 years, is a direct translation from original Biblical languages, Hebrew, Greek and Aramaic. Aramaic was the language of Jesus.

Small Business Loan Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board today announced that it will increase the maximum size of small business loans from $50,000 to $100,000. The increase will be effective Oct. 1. The board said the increase was made to help small businesses that are having difficulty obtaining credit. The board also announced that it will increase the maximum size of small business loans from $50,000 to $100,000.

Fire Fighter Loses Battle

DETROIT (AP) — A suspended Detroit fire fighter has lost the first round of a court battle to keep his bushy moustache, despite his lawyer's reminder that in 1967 fire fighters were urged to grow such moustaches as part of a centennial celebration.

Wayne Circuit Judge George E. Bowles claimed that Jerry Stewart's lawyer, John D. Reaser Jr., failed to prove a case for a directed verdict to throw out an unconstitutional Detroit Fire Department regulation forbidding such things as moustaches drooping "down below the upper lip line."

But Bowles agreed to hear additional arguments. Reaser said he would be back next week.

Stewart, 27, a five-year department veteran who wears long sideburns as well as the moustache, is protesting rules adopted by the Fire Commission in June in the name of safety. He was suspended last week.

John E. Cross, assistant corporation counsel, told Judge Bowles Tuesday the rules were adopted so gas masks and other protective equipment can properly fit around the face without any leakage.

Federal Timber Rebate Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — States sharing in fees collected from users of federal timberland are receiving slimmer checks this year because of a tighter market for lumber and other forest products.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin announced today that payments totaling approximately $71.8 million are being mailed to 39 states and Puerto Rico that are sharing in the annual receipts collected from users of national forests.

The payments, representing

25 per cent of $288 million collected during the fiscal year ended June 30, are down from the record high of $78.1 million for 1968-69.

A spokesman for the U.S. Forest Service in the Agriculture Department said the main reason for the drop was the "depressed timber market" last year, reflecting the lag in home building and other uses of lumber.

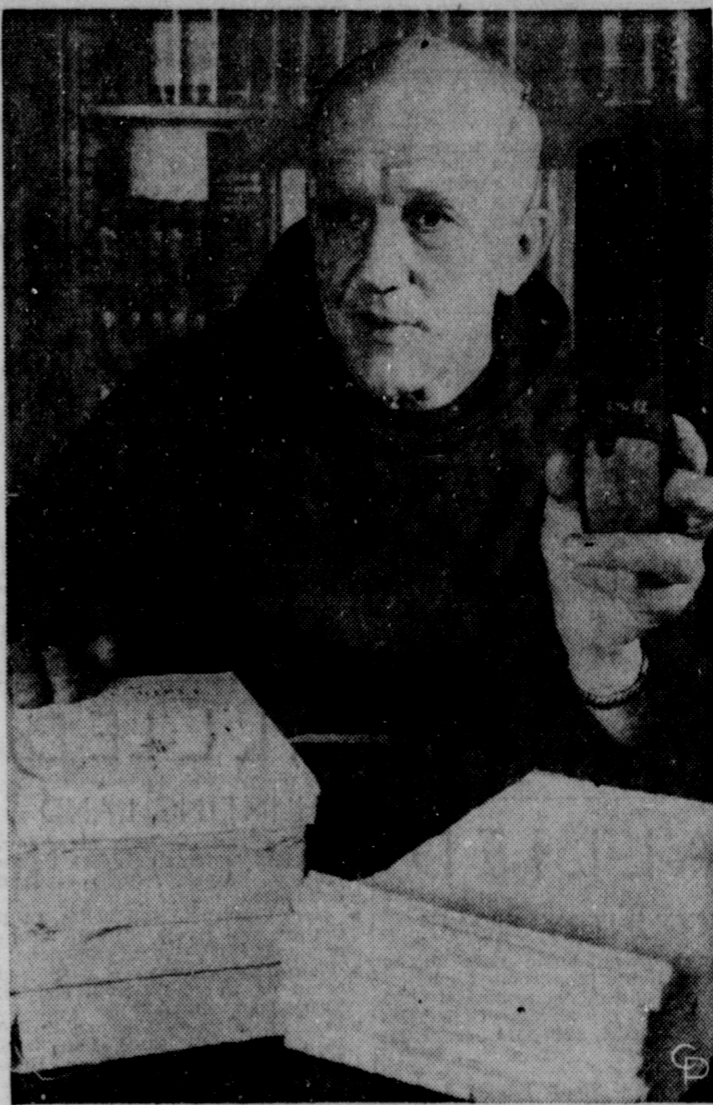

Sales of timber from national forests account for the major part of the fees. These also included charges paid for livestock grazing, recreation, power and other land uses. About 10 per cent of the gross collection is turned back to the forests for construction and maintenance. The remainder goes into the federal treasury.

By law 25 per cent of the total collections in earmarked for counties in which the forests are located. The money must be used for schools and roads.

Oregon again led this year's fee-sharing with $27.5 million, the department said. Puerto Rico received the least, $2,043.

Payments to other states included Michigan, $287,418, and Wisconsin, $162,618.

The South probably received the name of Dixie from $10 bills printed in New Orleans by the Citizens Bank of Louisiana and used up and down the Mississippi. The bills carried the French word for ten, "Dix." The original lyrics of the popular song were: "I wish I wuz in the land of the Dixes."

General Phone Seeks Increase

MUSKEGON (AP) — The president of General Telephone Co. says the firm probably will seek a rate increase before the year ends. T. A. Saunders said the company has no plans to seek an increase but "it will probably be necessary to make application for an increase before the end of the year." Saunders said earlier this year that General would ask for higher rates if its earnings kept dropping. Monday, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. was given permission by the State Public Service Commission to impose a $14.8 million rate increase. Neither telephone company has had a rate increase since 1960.
